PAGPAPATUPAD NG GROUP ENROLLMENT NG PHILHEALTH, ISINUSULONG NG LHIO DASMARIÑAS

Hindi naging hadlang ang pandemya upang maging aktibo ang Local Health Insurance Office (LHIO) Dasmariñas upang maihatid ang serbisyo sa mga miyembro. Kaugnay nito, patuloy ang pakikipag-ugnayan ng tanggapan sa mga stakeholders para sa pagpapatupad ng Universal Health Care.

Isa sa mga prayoridad ng LHIO Dasmariñas, sa pangunguna ni LHIO Head Ma. Obelia Fontanilla, ang pakikipag-ugnayan sa mga Local Chief Executives sa mga bayan na nasasakupan ng kanilang tanggapan. Hinihikayat ng pamunuan ng LHIO Dasmariñas ang mga lokal na pamahalaan na i-enroll sa Group Enrollment Program ang mga Job Order Contractors at iba pang mamamayan na walang kakayahang magbayad ng sariling kontribusyon sa PhilHealth.

Sa kasalukuyan, tatlong Pamahalaang Lungsod ang nabigyan na ng Certificate of Partnership bilang pagkilala sa commitment na ibinigay nila sa Group Enrollment Program ng PhilHealth. Ito ay ang LGU Dasmariñas na may 2,151 na ang nai-enroll sa programa, LGU Imus at ang LGU Bacoor na may inasahang mahigit 2,600 na pamilya ang mai-rehistro sa programa.

Patuloy pa din ang pakikipag-ugnayan ng LHIO Dasmariñas sa iba pang bayan na kanilang nasasakupan upang mapaigting ang kampanya sa pagpapatupad ng UHC. PR

Suporta Kay Bongbong Bumuhos Sa Pinakahuling Presidential Survey

Nanguna si Partido Federal ng Pilipinas (PFP) standard-bearer Ferdinand 'Bongbong' Marcos, Jr. sa mga tumatakbo sa pagkapangulo sa darating na 2022 election ayon sa resulta ng Presidential preference survey na inilabas ng PUBLICUS Asia Inc. nitong Biyernes.

Ayon sa lumabas na resulta, nakuha ni Marcos ang 49.3% ng mga boto ng mga respondents. Sumunod sa kanya si Leni Robredo na may 21.3%. Pumangatlo lamang si Manila Mayor Isko Moreno na may 8.8% at sinundan naman nila Ping Lacson na nagtala ng 2.9% at ni Manny Pacquiao na nakakuha lamang ng 2.8%.

Milya-milya ang kalamangan ni Marcos sa iba pang Presidential hopefuls at overwhelming ang naging pagkiling ng mga botante sa kanya lalo na sa mga importanteng voting areas. Sa NCR, nakuha ni Marcos ang 40% na boto. Samantala, sa North and Central Luzon, nakak-agulantang na 55.7% ng mga boto ang kanyang nakuha. Sa South Luzon, nagtala siya ng 38.2%. Sa Visayas nakuha niya ang halos kalahati ng mga boto sa 44.7%. Nakakalulang 62.5% naman ang nakuha ni Marcos na voter preference sa Mindanao.

Ang Pahayag survey ay ang latest Presidential preference survey na lumabas matapos magdeklara si Davao City Mayor Sara Duterte na hindi siya interesadong tumakbo bilang Presidente sa darating na halalan sa 2022 bagkus ay muling kakandidato bilang Mayor.

Ang malakas na performance ni Marcos sa Pahayag survey ay kumukumpirma sa lumalaking suporta ng mga tao sa kanyang kandidatura. Maging ang mga informal surveys gaya ng Kalye surveys na ginagawa ng YouTube vloggers sa iba't-ibang bahagi ng bansa ay nagpapakitang si Marcos ang pangunahing pinipili ng mga tao. (Leonard basilio)

Poste ng Meralco, inararo

TINATAYANG mahigit sa P.7 milyon halaga ng nasira ang sasagutin ng isang driver matapos aruruhin ng minamanehong truck ang poste ng Meralco sa Carmona, Cavite.

Personal na inireklamo ni Clodmar Patano, 44, investigator ng Meralco, si Rodrigo Guanizo, 27, driver ng Isuzu Win Van truck na nakarehistro sa pangalan ng Auto Land Subic Motors Corporation.

Sa ulat ni PSSgt Charles Virtudez, ng Carmona Police Station, binabagtas ni Guanizo ang kahabaan ng Governor's Drive patungo sa direction ng Binan City, Laguna dakong alas-11:30 Linggo ng umaga pero pag-sapit sa isang zigzag na bahagi ng kalsada sa Brgy Mabuhay nang umano'y nawalan ng kontrol sa manibela at nasalpok ang poste ng Meralco.

Dahil sa pagkakabangga, nasira ang poste at nadamay ang tatlong transformer na nakakabit sa itaas ng poste na umabot sa halagang P750,000 ang naging pinsala.

Tatlong katao na pawang helper ng driver ang nasugatan at isinugod sa Pagamutang Bayan ng Carmona dahil sa pangyayari. GENE ADSUARA

Estudyante, nagpakilalang parak; swak sa kaso

NABUKING na electrical engineering student at hindi police officer ang 21-anyos na lalaki na nakialam at tinangkang baliktarin ang isang aksidenteng kinasangkutan ng kanyang kaibigang food Panda rider sa Dasmariñas City, Cavite.

Kasong paglabag sa Article 177 ng Revised Penal Code (Usurpation or Official Function ang kinaharap ni Froilance Sison, alias "Choi", binata, ng Block 1 Lot 3 Phase 3, Brgy Buro 3, Dasmariñas City.

Sa ulat ni Pat Arthur Rejano, ng Dasmariñas City Police, dakong alas-12:30 ng tanghali ay personal na nagtungo sa tanggapan ng Brgy Fatima 1 si Arnel Sanchez, 43, may-asawa, ng Brgy San Mateo, hinggil sa naganap na insidente kung saan nasagasaan umano ang kanyang paa ng motorsiklo ni Marvin Flores, food Panda rider.

Habang pinag-uusapan at inaayos ang insidente sa pagitan nina Sanchez at Flores ay dumating ang suspek at nagpakilalang isang police officer at miembro ng Intelligence Drug Enforcement Unit.

Dito na binaligtad ng suspek ang pangyayari at pinaboran ang kanyang kaibigan at inakusahan si Sanchez na may kasalanan at nagduda rin sa katauhan ng huli kaya gusto niya itong paimbestigahan.

Pero lingid sa kaalaman ni Sison ay nakipag-ugnayan na ang barangay sa pulisya hinggil sa pagkatao nito kung saan nalaman na siya ay kasalukuyang 3rd year electrical engineering student ng Cavite State University at hindi miembro ng PNP. GENE ADSUARA

Mga pamana ni Duterte, ibinahagi

BALER, Aurora (PIA) -- Ibinahagi ni Presidential Communications Operations Office o PCOO Secretary Martin Andanar ang ilan sa mga pamana ng administrasyong Duterte sa mga Pilipino.

Sinabi ni Andanar na nagbigay daan ang programang Build Build Build upang makapagpatayo, maisaayos at mapabuti ang may 29 libong kilometrong kalsada, 214 paliparan at 451 daungan.

Sa Gitnang Luzon, naipatayo ang Tarlac-Pangasinan-La Union Expressway, Pulilan-Baliuag Diversion Road, Capas-Botolan Road, Sta. Cruz-Mangatarem Road at Subic Freeport Expressway. Naipatayo din ang New Clark City Sport Hub at ang bagong Clark International Airport Terminal.

Sa pamamagitan naman ng mahigit 140 Malasakit Centers ay dalawang milyong mahihirap na mga Pilipino ang nabigyan ng libreng gamot at serbisyong medikal.

Sa Law and Order, may 22,000 barangay na ang naitalang drug-cleared habang bumaba sa 64 porsyento ang crime volume.

Pagdating naman sa usaping pangkapayapaan ay naisakatuparan ng administrasyon ang Bangsamoro Organic Law na lumikha ng Bangsamoro Autonomous Region in Muslim Mindanao.

Samantala, may 19,000 rebelde ang nagbalik loob na sa gobyerno sa pamamagitan ng National Task Force to End Local Communist Armed Conflict.

Para sa Anti-corruption drive ay pinirmahan ni Duterte ang Executive Order No. 2 o Freedom of Information na nagbukas ng libro ng pamahalaang nasyunal.

Ito ang nagpalakas sa Anti-

Red Tape Act at nagbigay daan sa pagkakatatag ng Presidential Anti-Corruption Commission.

Dagdag pa ng kalihim, ilan pa sa mahahalagang pamana ng Pangulo ay ang Free Tuition Act kung saan 1.6 milyon na mga estudyante mula sa mga state universities at colleges ang nakapag-aral nang libre.

Bukod dito, 109 milyong Pilipino na ang may Universal Health Care Insurance sa pamamagitan ng Universal Health Care Law.

May 6.5 milyon naman na mga Overseas Filipino Worker ang nakinabang sa one-stop shop ng pamahalaan.

Ibinalita rin ni Andanar na sa agrikultura ay bukod sa isang milyong magsasaka na nakinabang sa libreng patubig, ay may 2.4 milyong magsasaka rin ang nakinabang sa Rice Tariffication Law habang 229,000 ektaryang lupain ang naipamahagi sa pamamagitan ng Department of Agrarian Reform sa mahigit 160,000 bebepisyaryo nito.

Kabilang naman sa legasiya ni Pangulong Duterte sa PCOO ay ang Mindanao Media Hub, Visayas Media Hub, at ang kauna-unahang Government Communication Academy na naka-focus sa pagtuturo ng komunikasyon at iba pang paraan na makapagbibigay ng tamang impormasyon sa publiko, para sa mga information workers sa barangay hanggang sa pamahalaang nasyunal.

Ayon kay Andanar, mahalaga na maiparating sa publiko ang mga nagawa ni Pangulong Duterte nang maikumpara ang mga naipangakong mga programa noong 2016 gaya sa peace and order, law and order, anti-corruption drive, at poverty alleviation.

MAGALING sa pamimintas at mas mahusay sa panghuhusga ang nakararaming Pinoy.

Batay iyan sa pananaw ng ating tropang lansangan sa kanilang umpukan.

Usap lang sila at ang napapagkwentuhan ay ang tungkol sa mga tagasuporta ng kung sino mang kakandidato sa eleksiyon sa susunod na taon.

Pinuna nga nila iyon bang tipong nagpapakamatay pa para lamang sa sinusuportahang kandidato.

Ang tanong ay kung gano ka ba kakilala ng kandidatong iyong ipinaglalaban?

Gusto ang kandidato at kapagnapagdebatehan ay talagang ipinaglalaban hanggang kamatayan o kahit pa humantong sa away.

Siyempre nga naman kapag umikot na ang usapan sa mga kandidato ay lalabas na ang pamimintas. Hindi pa makukuntento sa pamimintas dahil ang kasunod ay ang panghuhusga.

Kaya naman talagang nagsasara ang isipan ng iba dahil hindi na makikita ang sampung mabuting nagawa kontra sa isang kamalian lamang.

Wagas na wagas kung mamintas at kapag nanghusga naman ay halos sagad hanggang buto sa panlalait.

Silang ating tropang kalye ay may kanya-kanya ring 'manok' para sa halalan sa 2022.

Ang pagkakaiba nga lamang nila kapag nagkuwentuhan ay hindi na kailangang manira pa at lalong manghuhusga pa. Palitan lamang sila ng pananaw sa kung sino man ang kanilang napipisil na kandidato.

Pero iyong makikipag-away pa at ilalaban ng pukpukan o patayan ang kandidato ay hindi nila ginagawa at gagawin.

Kaya naman nasentro ang ganitong usap nila ay bunga ng mga nakikitang iba't ibang post sa social media ng magkakalabang supporter ng bawat kandidato.

Sabi nga nila dapat ay respetuhan lamang ng bawat isa sa kung sino ang kandidato na gusto.

Korek ang tropang lansangan natin hinggil dito.

Matatamo kaya?

NAKIKITAAN ng hindi magandang epekto ang pagbibitiw sa tungkulin ng mga health worker sa ating bansa sa darating na anim na buwan.

Sa pahayag ni Private Hospitals Association of the Philippines Inc. (PHAPI) president Dr. Jose Rene De Grano, ito ay may negatibong epekto sa kalagayan o estado ng health care system sa bansa.

Lumilitaw sa talaan na umaabot na sa sampung porsiyento ng bilang ng mga health workers ang nakapagsumite na ng kanilang resignasyon.

Lisa ang dahilan ng resignation, trabaho sa abroad upang kahit paano ay kumite ng maayos at maganda.

Kung hindi kaagad mahahanapan ng kapalit ang mga nagbitiw sa trabaho ay malaking epekto sa ating health care system.

Ang bilang ng mga nagbitiway maaaring madadagdagan pa pagkatapos ay wala o napakaliit lamang ng bilang na magiging kapalit.

Habang hindi natatamo ng ating mga health worker ang makatarungang benepisyo ay magsisilbing dagok sa health care system ng bansa.

SECRETARY ANDANAR: SUPPORT THE GOVERNMENT IN ADDRESSING ENVIRONMENTAL CONCERNS

SURIGAO CITY – Presidential Communications Operations Office (PCOO) Secretary Martin Andanar on Sunday asked the public to support the government's move to focus more on environmental issues, as these have serious implications to human health. Secretary Andanar joined the Australian Embassy in commemorating the Battle of Surigao Strait through a tree planting activity at the proposed Multi-Species Marine Hatchery site in Barangay Looc. This is also part of the Philippines-Australia Friendship Caravan in celebration of the 75th anniversary of the diplomatic ties between Australia and the Philippines.

The Battle of Surigao Strait, joined by both Filipino and Australian armies, was one of the historical events that helped turn the tides against the Japanese occupation in the Philippines during World War II, bringing liberation to the country from foreign oppression.

"It is a pleasure to once again be able to visit Surigao City and to join you as we mark another year of friendship," Secretary Andanar, who is also an Australia Global Alumnus, said in his message.

"The trees that we plant here are dedicated to emphasizing our respective responsibility to having better and meaningful ties among our allies and stakeholders, in the same way, we need to strengthen environmental protection as our economy continues to recover from the ill effects of the pandemic," he added.

He said that conducting environmental campaigns such as tree planting not only strengthens the community but also provides awareness of the vital role of the environment in developing the country. He stressed that addressing environmental concerns is a whole-of-nation approach where every Filipino can be a part of.

"The activity we have here is a gentle reminder for us to invest and reconnect with nature and consider its hefty benefits alongside our development," he said. "These trees will soon grow and provide shade and oxygen for us—a symbol of our dependency on mother nature, giving us a glimpse into how much better our lives could be if we lived in harmony with it. May this be a reminder of our commitment to provide a sustainable future for our next generations," he added.

This is the second time this year that the PCOO and the Australian Embassy partnered for a tree planting activity for the same commemoration. The first was at the Arroceros Forest Park in Manila last May 22.

The said activity is also part of the initiative of the Australia Global Alumni network to plant 750 trees across the country in celebration of 75 years of diplomatic relations between Australia and the Philippines.

DOLE cautions public vs. phishing attempts

MANILA – The Department of Labor and Employment (DOLE) on Tuesday warned the public against phishing attempts using platforms connected with the agency.

"The DOLE warns the public against unverified and illegitimate online transactions or platforms claiming to be affiliated with the Department using the PhilJobNet and the Public Employment Service Office (PESO) brands, and subsequently asking its registrants to deposit money in exchange for 'commissions'," the DOLE said in a press statement.

It also advised the public that there is no registration fee or commission fee given to registrants of the PhilJobNet, the government's online platform that matches job seekers with job postings/ employers.

The DOLE also clarified that it is not affiliated, associated, authorized, endorsed by, or in any way officially connected to any 'Norbert Jr. V', 'Collen Antoinette Marquez', or any other similar personalities claiming money in exchange for "commissions".

Pag-IBIG Fund makes cash loans more affordable with longer payment period

CAGAYAN DE ORO CITY (PIA)--Pag-IBIG Fund has made its cash loans more affordable by lengthening its payment term to three years, its top officials announced, September 9.

Secretary Eduardo D. del Rosario, Chairman of the Department of Human Settlements and Urban Development (DHSUD) and the 11-member Pag-IBIG Fund Board of Trustees said during these difficult times, Pag-IBIG continues to improve its programs to respond to the needs of its members.

Last year, they launched special programs such as a payment moratorium and grace periods in accordance with the Bayanihan Acts, to help the borrowers with their finances.

"This year, we are lengthening the term of our cash loans from two years to three years to give borrowers more time to pay off their loans, and more importantly, to make its monthly payments lower," said del Rosario.

This is the agency's response to the call of President Duterte to provide the necessary services to help more Filipinos to recover from the pandemic, he added.

Pag-IBIG Fund's cash loans come in the form of a Multi-Purpose Loan (MPL), and a Calamity Loan (CL) for areas under a state of calamity. Also known as Short-Term Loans (STL), the MPL and CL serve as

It added that they neither operate nor offer their services through the WhatsApp application.

"Again, the public is advised to remain vigilant and to not be fooled by these unscrupulous individuals claiming to be affiliated with the Government or its officials to further their illegal activities. Please do not entertain or transact with them," he added.

He also urged the public to check and validate the legitimacy of the offers by contacting the Bureau of Local Employment at telephone number 8527-2539 or through electronic mail address ble.lmircgad@gmail.com, od_ble@yahoo.com, and asecnikki@gmail.com. (PNA) affordable and readily accessible sources of funds for its members.

Qualified members can borrow up to 80 percent of their total Pag-IBIG Regular Savings, which consists of their monthly savings, their employer's counterpart contributions, and dividends earned annually. The proceeds can then be used to pay for tuition fees, medical expenses, minor home improvement, as capital for small businesses, or as emergency funds during calamities.

"Pag-IBIG cash loans are paid over the course of 24 months. And now, our members have the option to extend the term to 36 months. By choosing the longer payment period, members can enjoy significantly lower monthly payments," said Pag-IBIG Fund Chief Executive Officer Acmad Rizaldy P. Moti. He added that by their calculations, they have reduced monthly payments by almost a third. With the average cash loan amounting to P20,000, members pay P1,016.52 per month for an MPL, and P897.23 per month for a calamity loan under a two-year payment term.

However, with the new three-year payment term option, the amount of each monthly payment will be reduced to only P734.57 a month for an MPL, and P615.72 a month for a calamity loan. With payments spread out over a longer period, monthly payments were brought down by 28% for the MPL and 31% for the Calamity Loan.

"We recognize that these are challenging times, and we are doing all we can to help our members as the health emergency continues. From January to July alone, we have released P25.42 billion in cash loans to aid more than 1.1 million members," Moti added.

He said Pag-IBIG is poised to help more members in the coming months, now that the extended payment term has made the cash loans even more affordable.

"We also made the process of applying for loans safer and more convenient by accepting loan applications online via the Virtual Pag-IBIG. This is Lingkod Pag-IBIG at work, especially when members need us most," Moti said. (Pag-IBIG Fund/PIA-10)

Bidders are reminded of their responsibility to determine the actual condition, status, ownership, and other circumstances of the properties they wish to acquire which include the possible coverage of these assets in the Comprehensive Agrarian Reform Program (CARP) and the issuance of Emancipation Patents or Certificates of Land Ownership Award. Additional information on these may be inquired from pertinent registries, government agencies, and other entities such as the Municipal Agrarian Reform Officer (MARO) and Provincial Agrarian Reform Officer (PARO) of the Department of Agrarian Reform where the properties are located. As part of the bid requirements, bidders must submit a Certification from the PARO that the property for which he is submitting a bid is not covered by the CARP and that no Emancipation Patent or Certificate of Land Ownership Awards have been issued for said property.

For participants who are submitting bids on behalf of another individual or an organization, respectively, the standard format of the Special Power of Attorney and Secretary's Certificate are also available from e-bidding portal.

For more information on the e-bidding, interested buyers may call the PDIC Public Assistance Department at (02) 8841-4141, during office hours. Those outside Metro Manila may call the PDIC toll-free hotline at 1-800-1-888- PDIC or 1-800-1-888-7342, also during office hours. Inquiries may also be sent via e-mail at pad@pdic.gov.ph or private message on PDIC's Assets for Sale Facebook page (@PDICAssetsforSale) or PDIC's official Facebook page (@Official-PDIC).

As liquidator, the PDIC disposes of various closed bank assets through public biddings and negotiated sale. Proceeds from the liquidation of closed banks' properties are added to the pool of liquid assets of these banks for distribution to uninsured depositors and other creditors subject to the rules on concurrence and preference of credits. The disposal of these assets increases the chances of recovery of uninsured depositors and creditors of their trapped funds in the closed banks. (PDIC)

Some parents hesitant in sending kids back to school

MANILA – Even with cases of the coronavirus disease 2019 (Covid-19) infections on the decline, some parents remain half-hearted in sending their children back to school for face-to-face classes.

Not until the virus is eradicated or the entire population has been vaccinated, some parents said, adding that they would rather have their children stay home for blended learning.

Others, however, want to have their children lead more normal lives and reduce the stress of staying at home for more than a year now.

Netizens have contradicting opinions on the reopening of physical classes in 30 schools on November 15, based on reactions gathered by the Philippines News Agency (PNA) from Wednesday to Friday.

"Yes na yes basta (Yes, so long as they) honor the procedure and protocols," Cynthia Balagan posted.

It was immediately followed by a negative response from Jinky Nicolas, who has a nine-year-old child in fourth grade at a school in Manila.

"No, hangga't may banta pa ng (No, until there is the threat of the) virus," she posted.

Werdan Ymuama is amenable to physically sending children back to school only if teachers and school staff are vaccinated against Covid-19.

"Kung lahat ng student na mag face-to-face at mga guro, gardeners, cleaners, suppliers, etc. ay bakunado. In short, lahat ng bakunado lang makakapasok, pwede iyan (If all students who will attend the face-to-face classes, along with teachers, gardeners, cleaners, suppliers, and others are vaccinated. In short, only those who are vaccinated can enter the school, then that is okay)," Ymuama posted.

Moreover, parents want to be assured that health and safety protocols will still be strictly enforced.

Meanwhile, Gilda Clavio agreed that staying home also has an effect on children and it's about time they return to school.

"Pwede naman na siguro basta masunod ang protocol, and mga safety ways, why not? Kasi para ma-develop na rin mga kids, maraming stressed na kids na rin (Maybe it is time. So long as protocols are followed, why not? This will also help kids develop. They have been through stress also)," Clavio said. On the other hand, some parents still prefer online learning for their children's safety.

"Hmm, 'di bale ng mahirapan sa online class mga anak ko, basta safe (I don't mind if my children find online classes more difficult so long as they are safe). Hope that this will not be mandatory," Gordon Matthew Concepcion posted.

Schools participating in the pilot physical classes have disinfected and retrofitted classrooms.

Some parents are not comfortable with the barriers though.

"Hindi po sa mga barrier na 'yan matatapos ang safety ng mga anak namin. Ang dami pa din pong kaso ng Covid para i-consider na ang face-to-face. 'Wag muna po sana (The safety of our kids does not depend on those barriers. There are still many cases of Covid-19 to already consider face to face. Not yet). Better be safe than sorry," Arlene dela Cruz Bismonte said.

On September 20, President Rodrigo Duterte approved the pilot implementation of face-to-face classes in low-risk areas while the rest of the country will continue with blended distance learning.

The approval was in consideration of education quality, mental health, and economic issues amid the pandemic.

Education Secretary Leonor Briones explained

CTA dismisses BIR appeal on Camp John Hay tax case

MANILA – The Court of Tax Appeals (CTA) has upheld a Department of Justice (DOJ) ruling to dismiss criminal charges filed in 2015 by the Bureau of Internal Revenue (BIR) against Camp John Hay Hotel Corp. (CJHHC) for alleged refusal to comply with a subpoena to produce financial records.

In a 26-page decision promulgated October 15 and written by Associate Justice Juanito Castañeda, Jr., the CTA Second Division sided with two DOJ resolutions dated June 20, 2017 and Feb. 5, 2020 which said the BIR "failed to provide evidence that the company was informed of whatever records and documents that needed to be presented and submitted".

"As correctly observed by the assailed (DOJ) resolution, the accusation of the appellant (BIR) that the appellee (CJHHC) failed to comply with the subpoena that only schools that have met the safety and readiness assessment, as approved by the Department of Health, Inter-Agency Task Force for the Management of Emerging Infectious Diseases, and other organizations specializing in children's health, would be allowed to hold face-to-face classes.

To be allowed at a time are 12 learners in Kindergarten, 16 each for Grades 1 to 3, and 20 learners for technical-vocational students.

Each session will run for a maximum of three hours for Kindergarten to Grade 3 and four hours for Senior High School.

The pilot face-to-face classes will be conducted every other week and all qualified learners will be given the opportunity to attend physical classes.

However, Briones clarified that participating schools must secure the written support and consent of parents of students and no learner shall be forced to attend face-to-face classes. (PNA)

duces tecum (production of evidence) is sweeping and misleading because the appellee, as shown from the records, actually appeared and produced the books of accounts and accounting records of the company," the CTA said.

The case originally assigned for preliminary investigation to the Quezon City Prosecutor's Office alleged the firm failed to obey BIR summons.

The violation, upon conviction, is punishable with a fine of PHP5,000 to PHP10,000 and imprisonment of one to two years.

The case was eventually elevated through a petition for review to the DOJ.

The court noted that since BIR representatives armed with a letter of authority were able to conduct an audit and examination of petitioner's records at CJHHC's office without any indication that it was prevented from doing so, "it can reasonably be inferred that it (BIR) was able to access and examine whatever is lacking in the submitted documents as of July 9, 2014".

The CTA said that if after such audit and examination there are still documents which have not been submitted or presented, "prudence dictates that private respondent should have been informed".

"We cannot agree with petitioner that there was failure on the part of private respondent (CJHHC) to submit the other subpoenaed documents. Without other convincing evidence to show such failure, we agree with the investigating prosecutor and the DOJ that petitioner has not given sufficient proof to warrant the filing of an information against private respondent," the CTA said. The CTA added that "in the absence of the accounting records of a taxpayer, his tax liability may be determined by estimation" and explained that "to hold otherwise would be tantamount to holding that skillful concealment is an invincible barrier to proof". (PNA)

NAKAHANDA ANG COMPACT FOUR-MAN PHILIPPINE KARATE TEAM PARA SA WORLD CHAMPIONSHIPS SA DUBAI SA SUSUNOD NA BUWAN

ANG kasalukuyang nira-ranggo ang no. 2 sa mundo, na si Junna Sukii ay makakasama ng kapwa 2019 Southeast Asian Games gold medalist na sina Jamie Lim, kata stalwarts, Sarah Pangilinan at Joco Vasquez sa Nob. 16-21 event sa Hamdam Sports Complex.

Nakikita ng 30-anyos na si Tsukii ang aksyon sa kanyang pet event, ang wong's kumite 50 kg class kung saan nanalo siya ng ginto sa SEA Games dalawang taon na ang nakaraan at isang bronze sa 2018 Asian Games, si Lim ay bumaba sa -61 division matapos dating nangampanya sa +61 category, habang sina Pangilinan at Vasquez ay nakikipagkumpitensya sa women's at men's individual kata.

Lahat ng apat ay sariwa mula sa kanilang stint sa huling Olympic qualifier na ginanap sa Paris, France. Dahil sa pandemya at kasunod na kawalan ng pondo, sinabi ni Karate Pilipinas Sports Federation Inc. president Richard Lim na ipinapadala lamang ng pambansang koponan ang Filipino quartet sa world meet na pinaniniwalaan nilang may malaking tsansa na manalo.

"We really try to send who we feel has the greater chance of winning for now, kasi eventually we have to expose everybody. This is the highest form of championship, so we're really sending the best para siguraduhin na merong patutuhan yung pinaghihirapan namin," said the karate official, who was joined by Jamie Lim in the online Philippine Sportswriters Association (PSA) Forum.

Sina Lim at Vasquez ay kasalukuyang nagsasanay kasama ang 13 iba pang pambansang atleta sa ilalim ng bubble set-up sa Baguio City sa ilalim ng Turkish coach na si Okay Arpa, habang sina Tsukii at Pangilinan ay nagsasanay sa Serbia at Japan, ayon sa pagkakasunod.

Ang pagsasanay sa isang high altitude camp ay unang nagbigay kay Lim, anak ng PBA at cage great na si Samboy Lim, na mahirap mag-adjust, ngunit kalauran ay nasanay na rin.

"Ang high altitude training ay nakakapanibago, but it will work to our advantage. Kung makapag-training tayo dito (Baguio), makapag-training tayo sa ibaba para sigurado," she said in the session presented by San Miguel Corporation (SMC), MILO® Philippines, Amelie Hotel Manila, Braska Restaurant, Daily Tribune, and the Philippine Amusement and Gaming Corporation (PAGCOR). "Bumalik sa normal ang pagsasanay nang mas mabilis kaysa sa inaasahan. Maganda ang vibe at maganda ang training."

Ayaw i-pressure ni Lim ang koponan dahil gusto lang niyang i-enjoy ng apat ang stint at gawin ang kanilang makakaya. Ngunit itinuturing ng karate federation president na si Tsukii, isang Filipino-Japanese, ang pinakamahasay na taya ng bansa para makakuha ng podium finish.

"We all know naman that Junna is almost competing every month, so she has the experience, the mental awareness to control the game. Nasa kanya na ang lahat. She has matured so much because of her experiences," ani Lim. "Sasabihin ko na ang kanyang mga pagkakataon na manalo sa kampeonato sa mundo ay napakataas."

"Pero siyempre, gusto ko talaga silang lahat manalo hindi lang para sa sarili nila at para sa federation, kundi para sa bansa."

Aalis ang koponan sa Nob. 11 para sa Dubai tournament na gaganapin sa ilalim ng bubble format.

Pagkatapos ng World Championship, susunod para sa pambansang koponan ang Asian Karate Championship sa Almaty, Kazakhstan sa Disyembre, na sinusundan ng 2022 Southeast Asian Games sa Vietnam sa Mayo, at ang Asian Games sa Hangzhou, China sa Setyembre.

CALVIN ABUEVA PBA BEST PLAYER OF THE CONFERENCE

Iginawad kamakailan ang 2021 PBA Philippine Cup Best Player of the Conference kay Calvin Abueva

Ang anunsyo ay ginawa bago ang Game 4 ng championship series sa pagitan ng Magnolia at TNT.

Nagtala si Abueva ng kabuuang 934 puntos matapos ang lahat ng mga boto mula sa media, mga manlalaro, at ang PBA Commissioner's Office ay nakolekta at na-tabulate kasama ng mga statistical points, na tinalo sina Mikey Williams, Ian Sangalang, Robert Bolick, at June Mar Fajardo.

Pinangunahan ni Abueva ang pack sa stat sheet hanggang sa semifinals, nakakuha ng 415 statistical points o 34.2 kada laro sa average.

Si Abueva, na tumulong sa Hotshots na makabalik sa Philippine Cup Finals, ay nag-average ng 15.2 points, 10 rebounds, 2.8 assists, 1.0 steal, at 1.1 blocks kada laro hanggang sa semis.

Nanalo rin siya sa media votes matapos makakuha ng 33 first-place votes at kalaunan ay nakakuha ng kabuuang 440 points mula sa nasabing mga boto, na sapat na para talunin si Williams, na sa kabilang ng pagiging pang-apat sa stats race ay nakakuha mula sa mga manlalaro at ng liga front office.

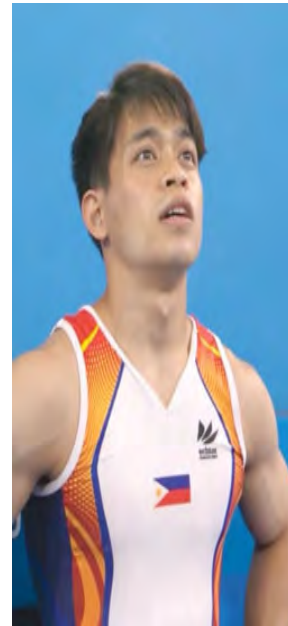

Nanalo si Williams sa mahigapit na paligsahan laban kay Abueva sa mga boto ng manlalaro na may 14 na boto sa unang puwesto laban sa 12 ni Abueva para sa kabuuang 59 puntos laban sa 54 ni Abueva, Nakuha ni Williams ang buong 150 puntos mula sa opisina ng commissioner, habang si Abueva ay nabigyan ng ikatlong puwesto na boto para sa 25 puntos.

Gayunpaman, nakakuha lamang si Williams ng 245 puntos mula sa media matapos makakuha lamang ng tatlong first-place votes laban sa 32 second-place votes, na nagbigay sa kanya ng grand total na 843 puntos.

Nagtapos si Sangalang sa ikatlo na may 591 puntos sa 35 third-place votes mula sa media, 12 second-place votes mula sa mga manlalaro at second-place votes mula sa PBA. Si Bolick, na pumangalawa sa stats race, ay nahulog sa ikaapat na puwesto na may 447 puntos matapos lamang makakuha ng isang pangalawang puwesto mula sa mga manlalaro.

Si Fajardo ay nasa ikalima na may 403. Ito ang pangalawang BPC award ni Abueva, na nanalo sa 2016 Commissioner's Cup plum.

INSENTIBO PARA KAY YULO APRUBADO NG PSC ANG PHP750K

Inaprubahan ng Philippine Sports Commission (PSC) Board ang pagkakaloob ng PHP750,000 na halaga bilang special incentives para kay Carlos Edriel Yulo para sa kanyang double-medal performance sa 2021 World Artistic Gymnastics Championships na ginanap sa Kitakyushu, Japan.

Si Yulo ang kauna-unahang Filipino na multi-medadong gymnast sa nasabing torneo matapos angkinin ang gintong medalya sa men's vault sa iskor na 14.916 puntos, tinalo ang Japanese na si Yonekura Hidenobu na nakakuha ng 14.866 puntos. Nanalo rin si Yulo ng silver medal sa men's parallel bars.

Iपालiwanag ni PSC Chairman William "Butch" Ramirez na hindi saklaw ng mga probisyon at teknikal na kondisyon ng Republic Act 10699 na kilala rin bilang National Athletes and Coaches Benefits and Incentives Act ang tau-nang ginaganap na world tilt ng gymnastics.

Sa kabila nito, kinikilala ng sports agency ang espesyal na kahalagahan ng pagkapanalo ni Yulo at inaprubahan ang PHP500,000 at PHP250,000 na incentives para sa kanyang ginto at pilak na medalya, ayon sa pagkakabanggit.

Binati at pinasalamatan ni Ramirez si Yulo para sa makasaysayang panalo na ito at sinabing, "bumawi siya at ipinakita sa aming lahat na siya pa rin ang aming world champion sa gymnastics."

Hindi nagawang ipagtanggol ni Yulo ang kanyang titulo sa men's floor exercise finals ngunit nagtuloy siya sa pag-angkin ng dalawang medalya sa iba pang mga kaganapan. Noong 2019, binigyan din ng PSC si Yulo ng PHP500,000 bilang insentibo para manalo ng maraming medalya sa Southeast Asian Games at isa pang PHP500,000 bilang qualifying incentives sa Tokyo Olympics.

"Lahat ng incentive na natanggap niya is well-deserved. Sa pamamagitan ng determinasyon nakagawa si Caloy ng sarili niyang angkop na lugar sa mga bulwagan ng kasaysayan ng Philippine Sports. Tunay na inspirasyon si Caloy sa ating mga kabataan at mga atletang Pilipino," sabi ni Ramirez.

Barako farmers to benefit from RIIC initiative

MANILA – Barako coffee farmers and processors will greatly benefit from the Regional Inclusive Innovation Center (RIIC) initiative in Calabarzon, Department of Science and Technology Region IV-A Director Emelita Bagsit said.

"Kapeng barako is the focus commodity of RIIC as this is an important commodity in the region. It would also help re-establish the branding and re-introduce barako coffee," she told the Philippine News Agency in an interview on Friday.

Barako coffee (Coffea liberica) has a strong taste and popularly grown particularly in the provinces of Batangas and Cavite.

RIIC in Calabarzon is a partnership initiative of the DOST, Department of Trade and Industry, Batangas State University (BatStateU), NEDA, PCCI, with support from USAID STRIDE. The DOST-Calabarzon has committed PHP1.4 million to strengthen this.

DOST-Calabarzon and its partner agencies eye the RIIC to be a dynamic one-stop-shop for prospective innovators in the region, with the goal of increased utilization and uptake of innovation programs and services, as well as research and development (R&D) outputs among micro, small, and medium enterprises (MSMEs).

While the DOST has a NICER (Niche Centers in the Regions for R&D), Bagsit said RIIC has a broader scope.

"Both NICER and RIIC promote innovation. They can be interrelated, but there are still differences. In fact, NICER could be a sub-component of RIIC," she remarked.

Bagsit explained that NICERs focus on specific commodity or research areas that are of prime importance to the regions, such as pili nuts (Region V), vector diseases, lakes, etc. On the other hand, RIIC in Calabarzon will initially focus on coffee, but will also cater to other innovation projects.

Further, a region could have many NICERs, but can only have one RIIC. Meanwhile, Bagsit said that part of the deliverables is to establish project roadmaps, and to make the center sustainable.

Last October 19, it was announced that RIIC, as a program, will carry the official brand, "LINC Calabarzon" or Linking Innovation Networks for Competitiveness in Calabarzon.

LINC will propagate 80,000 barako coffee seedlings among identified farms. Mapping-related activities to identify key innovators in the region, according to Albert Amante, BatStateU vice president for research, and also the project leader.

Also included in the upcoming activities are inventory of assets and coffee-related resources which the DOST-Calabarzon would include in the LINC website and database.

RIICs have a virtual collaboration space and a website accessible for free. The recently-launched website, <https://linccalabarzon.com>, is accessible to all stakeholders who are looking for partners and resources to help support their innovation initiatives.

A Business Innovation Unit (BIU) facility will be established within the KIST (Knowledge, Innovation and Science Technology) Park, which is targeted to open by 2024.

Bagsit clarified that the BIU, sans the facility, has been operational since early 2021 through the BatStateU, since a RIIC represents the local innovation system.

"The BIU will implement activities, such as linking MSMEs and potential innovators on the programs and services of partner institutions," she said. (PNA)

PCAARRD urges public to rediscover indigenous veggies

MANILA – With the goal of increasing the utilization of indigenous vegetables, the Philippine Council for Agriculture, Aquatic and Natural Resources Research and Development (PCAARRD) has announced the recently completed project that documented over a hundred indigenous vegetables from 20 provinces. A team of researchers from the University of the Philippines - Los Baños (UPLB) conducted focused group discussions with at least 75 communities, and asked them about the vegetables' accessibility, seasonality, marketability, among others.

Project leader Lorna Sister of UPLB's Institute of Crop Science, College of Agriculture and Food Science, shared their findings in a webinar aired on PCAARRD's Facebook page on Oct. 21.

Researchers have rediscovered sunset hibiscus, "saluyot" or jute mallow, "talinum" or waterleaf spinach, and "alugbati" or malabar spinach as among the leafy vegetables which they said are rich in iron and calcium.

There are flower vegetables, too. These include "katuray" or hummingbird tree, which they said can be red, pink, or white, which is the most commonly eaten. "Himbabao" or birch flower, which looks like a worm, is another example. This is being used in Ilocano dishes such as "pinakbet" and "dinengdeng", according to researchers' presentation.

"Kakawate" or Mexican lilac is apparently popular in central Luzon, while "sabsabidukong" or telosma which can be found in the forest margins of northern Luzon is diminishing.

Fruits can also be vegetables. Some examples are "kamansi" or breadnut; "langka" or jackfruit; "karape" or bitter eggplant.

Since eating too much meat is not good for the health, researchers also pointed out that legumes are also high-protein vegetables.

"Kadyos" or pigeon pea, "patani" or lima beans, "tapilan" or rice beans, are among them.

Legumes are abundant from December to April, the researchers said.

One may ask why some of the indigenous vegetables are vanishing. The causes, Sister said, may vary from pollution of rivers, creeks, and land; as well as conversion of land to infrastructure or residential areas.

"The use of plant-killing herbicides, and the aggressive introduction of high-yielding varieties by seed companies are other factors," she said.

Sister, meanwhile, noted that people have changed their taste preferences, especially with the growing options of fast foods, canned goods, and processed foods.

"Indigenous vegetables are a part of our legacy, and may hold a key to our survival," she said.

She reiterated that the indigenous vegetables may just be around, in the gardens, and can be grown in one's backyard.

"Indigenous vegetables are low-cost because these are just around and can grow very naturally. They are readily available and very nutritious. Also, because they are suited to the country's environment and climate, they won't be needing chemicals," she said.

Earlier, Department of Science and Technology (DOST) Secretary Fortunato de la Peña announced that Sister's team will conduct a nutritional analysis of 12 indigenous vegetables commonly used by Filipinos, such as wild ampalaya or bitter melon, "labong" or bush sorrel pea, etc.

The project aims to help popularize the select indigenous vegetables and boost their consumption, and also targets to make the study results serve as a guide to the research and development efforts.

13 of 146 PH cities named after saints, religious personages

MANILA – Are you aware that at least 13 of the country's present 146 cities created since 1901 bear names of saints or religious personalities with the appellations "san," "santa" or "santo"?

Yes, these are the cities of San Juan in National Capital Region; San Jose in Nueva Ecija; San Fernando and Angeles in Pampanga; San Jose del Monte in Bulacan; Santiago in Isabela; San Pablo, Santa Rosa and San Pedro in Laguna; San Carlos in Pangasinan and Negros Occidental; San Fernando in La Union; and Santo Tomas in Batangas.

Prior to their existence as a city, they were also former towns of their mother provinces, according to combined data from the Manila Bulletin Yearbook published on Feb. 2, 2015 and the Philippine Statistics Authority (PSA).

San Juan City, a former town of Rizal province and site of the famous 1896 Pinaglabanan monument, was named after St. John the Baptist, one of the 12 apostles of Jesus Christ whose feast day falls on June 24.

It was weaned from Rizal province and incorporated with Metro Manila in 1975 under Presidential Decree No. 824. It became a city during the time of President Gloria Macapagal-Arroyo through Republic Act No. 9388 in March 2007.

San Jose City in Nueva Ecija, as its name indicates, is named after Saint Joseph, the earthly father of Jesus Christ. It became a city under Republic Act 6051 signed by President Ferdinand E. Marcos on Aug. 4, 1969.

Before becoming a city, Santiago was one of the most developed towns of Isabela in Region 2 (Cagayan Valley). It was converted into a city through RA 7720 signed by President Fidel V. Ramos on May 5, 1994.

In Pampanga, the City of Angeles (literally meaning holy guardian angels) was converted into a city under RA 3700 signed by President Diosdado P. Macapagal and took effect on Jan. 1, 1964.

Also in Pampanga, the former capital town of San Fernando was converted into a city under RA 8990 approved by Arroyo on Jan. 26, 2001.

Another former capital town, San Fernando in La Union, was created as a city under RA 8509 signed by Ramos on Feb. 13, 1998.

On June 18, 1960, the town of San Carlos in Negros Occidental province was transformed into a city under RA 2643 signed by President Carlos P. Garcia. Five years later, a similarly named-San Carlos town in Pangasinan was created as a city under RA 4487 approved by Marcos on June 19, 1965.

San Jose del Monte City in Bulacan, one of the three cities of the province after Malolos and Meycauayan, was born in September 2000 through RA 8797 signed by President Joseph Estrada.

San Pablo City in Laguna was created by President Manuel L. Quezon through Commonwealth Act 520 he signed on May 7, 1940. It was Laguna's first city.

The town of Santa Rosa, also in Laguna, became a city on March 10, 2004 through RA 9264 approved by Arroyo.

Another Laguna municipality, San Pedro, became a city on March 27, 2013 through RA 10420 signed by President Benigno S. Aquino III.

The country's 146th and youngest city, Santo Tomas in Batangas, was converted into a component city in 2018, through RA 11086. It is the only city created so far under the administration of President Rodrigo R. Duterte. (PNA)

PH starts capacity building, foundations vs. climate change

MANILA – The proposed annual USD100 billion climate change financing to developing countries will not be available until 2023 but the Philippine government has started capacity building and policy foundations to easily implement its programs.

In a virtual pre-26th United Nations Climate Change Conference of the Parties (COP26) briefing on Tuesday, Finance Assistant Secretary Paola Alvarez said the government has started working with the private sector regarding climate change mitigation and adaptation strategies. She said especially in developed countries, it is the big companies such as Amazon and e-Bay that have big greenhouse gas emissions compared to developing countries.

"So, if they actually start implementing climate mitigation and adaptation strategies it would actually make a bigger dent. And at the same time how we respond to disasters and resiliency efforts would be greatly affected as well," she said.

Alvarez also highlighted the need to capacitate the local communities and the local governments to implement climate change-related measures.

These moves, she said, need a lot of funding, thus, the importance to ensure that developed countries provide the needed financing.

The Philippine delegates will be presenting these concerns during the COP26 in Glasgow, Scotland from Oct. 31 to Nov. 12, 2021, she said.

"We will champion climate change justice and we will push that developed countries actually pay up in terms of financing," she said. Finance Secretary Carlos G. Dominguez III and Foreign Affairs Secretary Teodoro Locsin III will lead the Philippine delegation to COP26, which also includes representatives from the Department of Environment and Natural Resources, the Office of the President, and the Department of Energy.

Alvarez said the team will be pushing for the adoption of viable transparency and a reporting mechanism that will not be stringent for developing countries to comply with. (PNA)

Couple loses certiorari case over lapse in procedure

MANILA — The Court of Appeals (CA) has upheld the decision of a lower court, which said summons to the Provincial Legal Officer (PLO) are required in a suit filed against a municipality. In an 11-page decision written by Associate Justice Elihu Ybañez dated October 19, the appellate court's Eighth Division said Judge Edwin Buffe, of the Odiongan, Romblon Regional Trial Court (RTC) Branch 82, ruled correctly in the case filed by couple Lino and Gemma Morales against the municipality of Looc and its mayor, Lisette Arboleda, in 2019. The couple claimed ownership of a 377-square-meter property in Barangay Poblacion. The Deputy Provincial Prosecutor of Romblon initially appeared as counsel for the respondents. On Jan. 13, 2020, the couple filed a motion to declare the municipality and Arboleda in default for failure to file an answer and respond to the complaint. The court, however, denied the motion filed by the couple to declare the municipality and the mayor in default as the summons should have been served to the PLO as provided under the Local Government Code. The Morales couple then filed a petition for certiorari, or a review of the case, before the CA. The CA said the RTC judge "exercised sound discretion in adjudging that a declaration of default against respondents is not availing in the present case and that the answer filed by the office of the provincial prosecutor for the municipality and the mayor is merely noted pending due service of summons on private respondents' legal counsel, the PLO". The PLO, according to the CA, may opt to "file another answer, or simply manifest that he or she is adopting the of-record answer as private respondents' answer in the case". "Given that the Local Government Code itself provides for the lawfully mandated representative or counsel, the PLO, we find no error on the part of the judge in requiring that summons be first served on the PLO," adding that "to outrightly deprive the respondents of their day in court would be inimical to the interest of substantial justice". (PNA)

DSWD warns public vs fake FB page using Sec. Bautista's name

QUEZON CITY -- The Department of Social Welfare and Development (DSWD) warned the public against a fake Facebook page posing to be DSWD Secretary Rolando Joselito Bautista's account. The bogus FB page which used the photo of Sec. Bautista has posted a status on ending anarchy and dynasty in the country. Furthermore, it was used by some netizens as a channel to request for inclusion in the different DSWD programs. The DSWD emphasized that the Secretary has no Facebook account, and that he will not run for any position in the upcoming elections. Meanwhile, the Department reminded the public to only refer to DSWD's official Facebook Page, <https://www.facebook.com/dswdserves> or @dswdserves, which has over 1.1 million followers, for announcements and

The system was first implemented at the Manila International Container Port last August 2021 and was gradually implemented to all other ports, namely: Ports of Manila, NAIA, Clark, Limay, Mariveles, San Fernando, Sual, Aparri, Curimao, Subic, Cebu, Dumaguete, Mactan, Batangas, Davao, Dadiangas, and Surigao, Cagayan De Oro, Ozamis, Iligan, Zamboanga, Iloilo, Legazpi, Tacloban, Isabel, and Mindanao Container Terminal. By November 2021, the ARMS will also be implemented in Port of Davao which completes the full rollout of the system. The ARMS is an Electronic-to-Mobile (E2M) subsystem that enables an automated random assignment of consumption entries to Examiners and Appraisers. In addition, it also offers a mechanism for brokers and importers to view updates on the status of their respective goods declaration via the publicly accessible ARMS Online Portal: <https://arms.customs.gov.ph/>. This system incorporates existing key features and functionalities of the Goods Declaration Verification System (GDVS); hence, the ARMS is ultimately intended to completely replace the GDVS. Governed by Customs Memorandum Order No. 25-2021 and signed by Commissioner Rey Leonardo B. Guerrero in August 2021, the system will institutionalize the "Zero Contact Policy" mandated by the Ease of Doing Business and Efficient Government Service Delivery Act of 2018 (Republic Act No. 11032). Section 7 of RA 11032 mandates the use of a web-based software for conducting transactions in government agencies and Local Government Units. Institutionalizing such policy will suppress corruption that arises from the "suki" system, which was prevalent before the introduction of randomized assignments of goods declarations. (PR)

LEGARDA: COP26 MUST DELIVER ON CLIMATE FINANCE TO ALLOW FILIPINOS TO SURVIVE AMID INTENSIFYING CLIMATE IMPACTS

MANILA --- Three-term Senator and UNDRR Global Champion for Resilience Loren Legarda emphasized the need for the upcoming 26th United Nations Climate Change Conference of the Parties (COP26) to deliver on the Paris Agreement's commitments on climate finance if Filipinos are to avoid more greenhouse emissions and survive the intensifying impacts of climate change during a media briefing held Tuesday, October 26 via Zoom. Legarda gave an opening statement during the Pre-COP26 media briefing convened by the British Embassy Manila, the Embassy of Italy, the United Nations, and the Department of Finance. Newly installed British Ambassador to the Philippines Laure Beauflis also gave an opening statement, along with the DOF and the UN. "We count on the DOF as head of our national delegation to ensure that developed countries will finally move with urgency to deliver on their commitments in terms of the Paris Agreement's means of implementation: climate finance, technology transfer, and capacity building from developed countries to developing ones," Legarda said. "Without these, the Philippines will not be able to build the capacity and technical know-how we need to avoid more GHG emissions, and we will not be able to survive the intensifying impacts of climate change. The same fate awaits many climate-vulnerable developing countries like us," she added. During the briefing, Legarda also emphasized the call of the Climate Vulnerable Forum (CVF)—which she co-founded—for COP26 to finalize and deliver strong carbon market mechanisms. Aside from this, Legarda said COP26 should enable emissions avoidance, a concept inroduced by the Philippines in the previous COP, by establishing the eligibility of emissions avoidance activities—which, in effect, would allow the Philippines and other developing countries to assert "our right to the remaining global emissions space without actually emitting them." Legarda expects also COP26 to agree on a Delivery Plan for the annual $100 billion over five years, from 2020-2024, pledged by developed countries to vulnerable countries to help them adapt to climate change and mitigate further rises in temperature. Rich nations should have delivered $100 billion already starting last year and by 2025, the $100 billion should start increasing steadily yearly. She also expects COP26 to make action on Loss and Damage integral to its outcome. These will be critical to the implementation of the Philippines' Nationally Determined Contribution (NDC) to the Paris Agreement, which will also be brought forward to COP26. At the same time, however, Legarda emphasized the need for more ambitious national targets—and for making every budget a climate adaptive budget. "The country's credibility will be on the line with our NDC as it is. It is virtually a business as usual NDC if over 90% of our pledge remains conditional. We are fooling ourselves. These are big numbers that are empty. It's a big balloon full of nothing but air. It's high time to fix this," she said. During her opening statement, Legarda also highlighted the role of its participants in widening the public's understanding of COP26 and of broader climate issues. "I hope this conversation paves the way to building more awareness and spurring the engagement of more Filipinos on critical climate issues in COP26 and beyond," she concluded. (PR)

BSP EYES P1K POLYMER BANKNOTES PILOT-TESTING IN H1 2022

MANILA – The Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) is set to pilot-test starting in the first half of 2022 the use of PHP1,000 polymer notes that are deemed to be cleaner, cheaper, stronger, and smarter than using paper bills.

In a virtual briefing on Monday, BSP Deputy Governor Mamerto Tangonan said they will start with "a few hundred million pieces" of PHP1,000 notes which is the most withdrawn denomination to be distributed around the country.

"It has to be circulated nationwide. It has to be used by the public so we can see how it behaves so that we can test the banknotes itself and we can also get feedback on how our people, our public would handle them. Because at the end of the test, we would like to see (whether) those benefits I mentioned to you earlier that have been actually experienced and reported by other central banks could hold or could be true for the Philippines under our local conditions," Tangonan said.

The volume of polymer notes that would be issued during the pilot-testing will be deducted from the total supply of PHP1,000 banknotes that will be circulated during that period, he said.

"We have to issue the right amount of currency in circulation so it has to be right. We cannot issue too much, we cannot issue too little. That will be in the basket of currencies that we will issue," he added.

Polymer banknotes are made from synthetic polymer like biaxially-oriented polypropylene (BOPP) thus, this is more hygienic than the paper bills, can have more security features, are more cost-effective because its more durable, and environmentally friendly because it is a recyclable material and has small ecological footprints than paper bills.

The BSP has studied the experience of Canada, Australia, New Zealand, Mexico, among others, in its bid to use polymer banknotes, Tangonan said.

He said polymer banknotes have around 2.5 to four times longer lifespan than paper bills because it is water and dirt-resistant and can be safely sanitized, which is the norm now because of the pandemic, without damage unlike the paper bills.

The BSP has been studying the use of polymer bank-notes since the late 2000s and monetary authorities see the need to pilot-test it now not only because of the issue on sanitizing money but also for economic and environmental factors, he added.

Tanganon said the initial batch of polymer banknotes will be sourced overseas but they also plan to produce it here eventually.

The use of polymer banknotes has been opposed in the past because of its impact on the country's abaca sector, which will have lesser demand for its products.

The current banknotes are made from 20 percent abaca pulp and 80 percent cotton, a mix required by the BSP from its specialty paper supplier overseas.

Tanganon said the use of polymer notes will have limited impact on the local producers of abaca, citing that from 2012-2020, the share of abaca banknote content to total volume of abaca fiber production is only 2.1 percent.

In terms of the estimated value of abaca banknote content to export earnings of the sector, he said it is around 1.1 percent in 2020.

To date, BSP has two pre-selected abaca pulp suppliers and around 12 to 30 percent of their production that are for exports are used for banknote papers. These abaca pulp suppliers are where the BSP banknotes paper supplier sources its abaca pulp.

Tanganon said the estimated impact on employment of the limited circulation of test polymerization of PHP1,000 banknote is around 0.2 to 0.4 percent of 2020 abaca farming jobs.

In terms of revenues, it is around 0.1 to 0.2 percent of 2020 exports, or about PHP8.5 million to PHP70 million, he said.

Tanganon said while the BSP shifts to the use of polymer banknotes, it continues to help the abaca farming sector by buying their products for corporate give-aways.

It has also started to work with other government agencies, such as the Land Registration Authority (LRA) and the Department of Foreign Affairs (DFA), regarding the use of abaca substrate for papers and documents for these to be more durable, he said.

He added that as more countries shift to "green" economy products, there will still be high demand for abaca products. (PNA)

TOOL OF CHOICE, DEHADO!

Sakay ng hineteng si Mark Sadam Pilapil ay naging maganda ang bungad para sa mga dehadista matapos na masilat kaagad ang liyamado sa simula pa lang ng karera. Sa largahan ay nakauna sa lundagan ang kabayong si Tulos Express na ginabayan ng hineteng si JQ Cabarrios Jr., ngunit agad naman na sinunggaban ng paborito na si Easy Landing ni Jeff Zarate ang harapan upang hawakan ang bandera. Hindi naman nagpaiwan si Tool Of Choice at nakipagsabayan kay Easy Landing sa unahan, kasunod si Shadow Of The Sun ni JP E Villanueva, panglima si Kalanggaman Island na pinatungan ni CS Pare Jr., habang si Sir Joaquin na sakay ni RM Garcia ang nasa hulihan ng takbuhan. Naging matindi ang labanan nila Easy Landing at Tool Of Choice sa harapan habang nasa ikatlong puwesto si Shadow Of The Sun. Pagdating sa far turn ay bahagyang nakaungos sa gawing labas ang winning horse ngunit bumabalik naman sa gawing loob ang paborito na si Easy Landing. Sa rektahan ay nakalamang na si Easy Landing ng dalawang kabayo kay Tool Of Choice ngunit mapansin na sumisiksik na sa tabing balya si Easy Landing kaya hindi sumuko si Tool Of Choice at dumiskarte ng maganda ang hinete nito. Sunod sunod na pagkayog ang pinakawalan ni Sadam Pilapil kay Tool Of Choice habang pinakikitaan ng panalo ang kabayo. Nagresponde naman si Tool Of Choice kaya pagsapit sa huling 50 meters ay nakalamang na siya sa unahan at tumawid sa meta ng may dalawang kabayong agwat laban sa nasegundo na si Easy Landing. Tersero si Tulos Express at pang-apat si Shadow Of The Sun. Nakapagrehistro si Tool Of Choice ng tiyempong 1:10.8 (24-21'-25) para sa distansiyang 1,200 meters. SC drops admin raps vs. 2 senior prosecutors

MANILA – The Supreme Court (SC) has dismissed an administrative complaint filed against two prosecutors for turning down a lawsuit.

In a resolution dated October 11 and released Wednesday, the SC's 2nd Division dismissed the administrative complaint against Senior Assistant City Prosecutors Francisco L. Salomon and Rose Sharon C. Abila, for lack of jurisdiction, noting that the case must be properly "filed with and resolved by the Office of the Ombudsman."

Gloria L. Echavez, who sued the prosecutors, was the complainant in a perjury case against a certain Marivel Echavez.

Gloria accused Marivel of committing acts of perjury in her sworn statements that Gloria's family ganged up on Marivel and beat her.

The perjury case, however, was dismissed because the investigating prosecutor found no probable cause to indict Marivel.

Gloria filed a motion for reconsideration, which was denied by Salomon and Abila.

The prosecutors found that Gloria did not submit sufficient evidence to prove Marivel perjured herself.

The prosecutors also said the case was a "re-filed case already previously resolved by another prosecutor."

Gloria then filed an administrative case against Salomon and Abila, claiming they made "irrational reasonings and untruthful statements" so they could dismiss the perjury case. (PNA)

DOE Holds Spot Inspection of Gas Stations

TAGUIG CITY – Amid the soaring oil prices in the global market, the Department of Energy conducted on Thursday quality and quantity spot inspections in gas stations in Metro Manila.

With instructions from Energy Secretary Alfonso Cusi, the DOE-Oil Industry Management Bureau (OIMB) carried out the inspections, led by Retail Market Monitoring and Special Concerns Division Chief Loralai R. Capistrano.

Among those which underwent sampling by the DOE team were the Clean Fuel station along Kamagong St. and the Ramon P. Torres Petron Service Center in San Antonio, Makati.

"It is unfortunate that the current surges in oil prices are caused by factors beyond our control. However, the DOE is committed to helping our consumers, and one way to do this is to ensure that petroleum products in our domestic market meet both national quality and quantity standards," Secretary Cusi stressed.

As part of the inspection, 10 liters of gasoline samples were collected and placed in a calibrating canister to determine the quantity, while 1 liter each of gasoline samples were collected in bottles to determine their quality, following the sampling and testing procedures prescribed by the Philippine National Standards on Petroleum.

Results showed that both gas stations passed the calibration test for fuel quantity. The samples have likewise been forwarded to the Department's Energy Research and Testing Laboratories for quality and confirmatory testing.

In addition, the DOE team checked the overall condition of dispensing pumps and facilities as well as the required Certificate of Compliance (COC) of the gas stations.

The DOE issues COCs to gas stations, otherwise known as liquid fuel retail outlets (LFROs), proven to be compliant with the "Rules and Regulations Governing the Business of Retailing Liquid Fuels".

"We conduct these spot inspections to ensure our consumers get their money's worth, especially since we are still in a battle against COVID-19. Every centavo counts," Secretary Cusi pointed out.

"This is also why we place high value on the attainment of energy security, as we no longer want to be at the mercy of global market volatilities," he added.

More than 350 hectares of forestland in Mt. Malaraya Forest Reserve, planted with indigenous and fruit-bearing seedlings

AS part of the Enhancement Planting of the Graduated NGP sites under the Enhanced National Greening Program (NGP), the DENR CENRO Lipa in partnership with barangay LGUs of Sto. Niño and Malitlit, Lipa City and People's Organization - Malitlit Nature Savers Association Inc. (MNSAI), planted more than 163,000 pieces of indigenous seedlings of Molave (Vitex parviflora) and Narra (Pterocarpus indicus) and 50,000 pieces of fruit bearing seedlings of Guyabano (Annona muricata) and Cacao (Theobroma cacao) in 361 hectares of NGP plantation located in Mt. Malaraya Forest Reserve (MMFR), Lipa City. Continuous monitoring and protection activities such as weeding, replanting, brushing and other maintenance activities were recommended to ensure high survival rate of the seedlings by the PENRO Inspection and Acceptance Committee during the monitoring and inspection of the Enhancement Planting in Barangays Malitlit and Sto. Niño, Lipa City, Batangas on October 20, 2021.

Lipa City, Batangas – DENR CENRO Lipa recently presented to the members of the Forest Land Use Planning Committee, Technical Working Group, and City Development Council in the presence of Lipa City Chief Executive, Mayor Eric B. Africa, the Draft Forest Land Use Plan (FLUP) for the City. The participatory and responsive Forest and Land Use Plan of the City of Lipa is a ten-year plan covering the year 2022-2031. The Forest Land Use Planning (FLUP) is a participatory process which aims to integrate and mainstream the management of forest and forest lands to the Comprehensive Land Use Plan (CLUP) of a municipality or city. For Lipa City, the FLUP covers the 1,286.12 hectares of forest land area within the Mt. Malaraya Forest Reserve, in Barangays Sto. Niño, San Celestino, Talisay, and Malitlit. CA sides with landowner after RTC error

MANILA – The Court of Appeals (CA) allowed the "belated" publication of a petition by a Quezon City landowner after it noted that the court originally handling the case failed to include the requirement in its ruling. The CA ruled on October 18 that "where there is a defect in the publication of the petition, such defect deprives the court of jurisdiction. And when the court lacks jurisdiction to take cognizance of a case, it lacks authority over the whole case and all its aspects".

The case stemmed from Marison Mendoza's original petition in January 2019 to cancel an encumbrance certificate on a 71-square-meter parcel of land in Sauyo, Tandang Sora, saying she is the registered owner of the property.

The original title was destroyed when fire hit an office of the Registry of Deeds in Quezon City and it was subsequently reconstituted.

No one went after the property within the two-year lien that expired in 1997 as attested by a certification from the Land Registration Authority and which Mendoza submitted to support her petition.

The Solicitor General, however, contested in July 2019 the Quezon City Regional Trial Court's ruling for the cancellation of the encumbrance, an evidence of single ownership that the property has no legal dues or monetary issues, saying Mendoza failed to comply with the publication requirements.

The CA noted though that the RTC did not issue a directive for the publication and thus, no proof of publication of the said notice was submitted as part of the evidence.

"Since the blunder was not entirely the fault of the petitioner, as the RTC should have included in its order an express directive to cause the same to be published, we find it expedient to remand the case to the RTC for the latter to correct the lapse and order the publication of the notice of petition," the CA said as it remanded the case back to the QC RTC Branch 215 for further proceedings. (PNA)

SC grants notarial commissions 3rd extension until June 2022

MANILA – The Supreme Court (SC) has extended until June next year all notarial commissions which would expire by the end of 2021.

It was the third extension granted by the SC since the onset of the Covid-19 pandemic last year.

In a statement on Tuesday, the high court said that due to the continuing difficulties imposed by the health crisis, all notarial commissions set to expire will remain valid until the first half of 2022.

"All notarial commissions granted in 2019 and whose validity had been previously extended until December 31, 2021 pursuant to the Court's December 1, 2020 and June 22, 2021 Resolutions are deemed further extended and shall thus remain valid for an additional period of six months beginning January 1, 2022 until June 30, 2022," the SC stated in a two-page resolution signed by en banc Clerk of Court Marife Lomibao-Cuevas.

During the six-month period, notaries public whose terms are deemed extended pursuant to the latest resolution shall continue performing notarial acts using their existing seals.

A notarial commission refers to the grant of authority to perform notarial acts and to the written evidence of the authority.

The latest extension was brought about by the request of lawyer Rameses Victorius Villagonzalo, who sought to extend the validity of his notarial commission issued in 2020 and is set to expire on Dec. 31, 2021.

The resolution has been circulated to the Office of the Bar Confidant, Integrated Bar of the Philippines, Philippine Bar Association, and Judicial Reform Initiative. (PNA)

Hamon sa kapulisan

MASAYA ang mga motorcycle taxi driver sa naging desisyon ng Court of Appeals.

Ibinasura kasi ng CA ang tinatawag na riding-in-tandem ordinance na pinaiiiral sa Mandaluyong City.

Batay sa inilabas na desisyon ni Associate Justice Raymond Reynold Lauigan, itinuturing ang ordinansa bilang oppressive, arbitrary, at discriminatory.

Sailalim ng City Ordinance 550 ng lungsod ay bawal ang angkas na lalaki sa single motorcycle.

Pinapayagan lamang kung ang nakaangkas at ang driver ay magkamag-anak.

Kailangang may bitbit na dokumentong patunay na sila ay magkamag-anak.

Ano nga ba ang pinagugatan ng nasabing petisyon.

Marso 7, 2019 ay nahuli ang isang abogado sa katauhan ni Atty. Dino de Leon dahil sakay siya ng Angkas service.

Nagbayad ng multa subalit sinulatan ng abogado ang

Mandaluyong City Traffic Management Bureau.

Umakyat sa mababang hukuman ang usapin pero ang petisyon ay ibinasura ng Mandaluyong City Regional Trial noong July last year.

Kayanaman ang abogado ay naghain ng motion for reconsideration.

Ngayong naglabas ng desisyon ang CA ay itinuturing ng mga motorcycle riders na napakalaking ginhawa ito para sa kanila.

Ang layunin naman ng pamahalaang lokal ng Mandaluyong sa pagpapairal ng nasabing ordinansa ay upang masugpo o maiwasan ang mga krimen na nangyayari sa lungsod.

Maganda ang hangarin subalit mayroong epekto o may mga naapektuhan.

Hamon ito ngayon sa kapulisan ng lungsod at sinusulat ko ang pitak harinawa na walang krimeng naganap o magaganap na riding in tandem ang sangkot.
