LEGARDA: MULA KULTURA HANGGANG KALAKALAN, ANG PAGKAMALIKHAIN AY NAGTUTULAK NG PAGBABAGO

Nakikiisa si Senador Loren Legarda sa paggunita ng bansa sa Philippine Creative Industries Month ngayong Setyembre.

Ito ay isang pag-alaala sa Republic Act No. 11904, o ang Philippine Creative Industries Development Act, na iniakda ni Legarda. Ang batas na ito ay kumikilala sa malaking papel ng creative sector sa ekonomiya, kultura, at pagkakakilanlan ng bansa. “Mula kultura hanggang kalakalan, ang pagkamalikhain ay nagtutulak ng pagbabago,” sabi ni Legarda.

Ayon pa kay Legarda, na siyang pinuno ng Senate Committee on Culture and the Arts, mula sa datos ng Department of Trade and Industry (DTI), naghatid ang creative industries ng 7.51 milyong trabaho at may kabuuang halaga na P1.94 trilyon noong 2024.

“Tayo ay masaya dahil lumago pa ang kontribusyon ng creative industries sa bansa ayon sa datos ng DTI mula sa P1.72 trilyon at 7.26 milyong trabaho. Ito ay 7.3% ng gross domestic product ng bansa. Ibig sabihin nito ay malawak ang ambag ng talentong Pilipino sa bansa.”

Naging matagumpay ang National Arts and Craft Fair (NACF) noong nakaraang taon, na nilahukan ng 250 na exhibitor, at nagtipon ng mga artisan ng bansa upang ipagmalaki ang likhang Pilipino.

“Masaya ako bilang matagal nang nagsusulong ng cultural preservation dahil napalakas pa ang ating relasyon sa mga artisano, at mga micro, small, and medium enterprise, pati na ang DTI at National Commission for Culture and the Arts (NCCA),” paliwanag ni Legarda.

Kabilang sa mga lumahok ay ang grupo ni Merlina Lumakin ng Sto. Niño de Plaridel Multi-Purpose Cooperative sa Baybay, Leyte, na lumago na ang mga miyembro mula 23 sa 400.

Nakatuo silang panatilihin

ang tradisyon, at layong ipasa sa mga susunod na henerasyon ang paggawa ng mga produktong gawa sa pandan tulad ng bag, kahon, tsinelas, at iba pa. “Malaking impact [ang NACF] kasi halimbawa sa mga ganito, m-ameet natin ‘yung mga buyers. So, lalong tumaas ‘yung demand. Yung mga weavers naman, nakabigay tayo ng livelihood o income, job,” paliwanag ni Lumakin. Ganito rin ang naranasan ni Angelita “Angie” Ilul ng Yakan Village, Zamboanga City, na may-ari ng Angie’s Yakan Handloom Weaving, na nagmula sa paghahabi ng placemat, naging misyon na iangat ang tribong Yakan.

“Malaking tulong po ‘yung livelihood po na binibigay po ni Sen. Loren Legarda, lalong-lalo po sa mga Yakan weavers para makabenta.” Ito ay resulta ng pananaw ni Legarda sa kinabukasan ng creative industries, na isang malakas na puwersa sa ekonomiya.

Gaganapin ang NACF 2025 sa Oktubre 23-29 sa SM Megamall Megatrade Hall sa Mandaluyong City.

Dagdag na 'pangil' kontra reckless driving

SIYAMNAPUNG (90) araw ang kalimitang ipinapataw na suspensiyon ng Land Transportation Office sa lisensiya ng tsuper bunga ng reckless driving. Masaklap kapag pampubliko o pampasahero ang behikulo ay may kinakaharap na asunto ang may-ari o operator ng public utility vehicle dahil sa pagkuha at pagtanggap ng empleyadong tsuper na reckless driver. Batay sa umiiral na mga regulasyon sa trapiko sa ating bansa, ang reckless driving ay may mga kaparusahan kabilang ang suspensiyon ng lisensiya at multa. Mayroon ding posibilidad ng mga kasong kriminal depende sa bigat ng paglabag at ano mang resulta ng mga aksidente o pinsala. Ang Pangulong Ferdinand 'Bongbong' R. Marcos Jr. ay may direktiba sa lahat ng motorista hinggil sa responsableng pagmamaneho at pagtiyak sa kaligtasan ng mga commuter. Napapanahon na marahil ang pagdagdag ng pangil o bagsik sa kaparusahan sa reckless driving, pampribado o pampubliko mang tsuper, dahil maraming buhay ang nakasalalay dito.

Pagsaludo sa 3 pulis ng Bacoar City

MALAKING bagay ang nagampanan ng tatlong tauhan ng Bacoar CCPS Custodial Center na kinabibilangan nina PCpl Remigion F. Zapatero Jr., PCpl Arhama Dimarao, at PCpl John Paul M. Ignacio.

Nitong Setyembre 14 ay may babaing nagluwal ng kanyang sanggol sa loob ng sementeryo sa Barangay Molino 2.

Mabuti na lamang din at may isang concerned citizen na maagap na nakatawag sa himpilan ng pulisya ng Bacoar City.

Iniulat ang babaing nakaupo sa gilid ng gate ng isang musoleyo na tangan o karga ang bagong silang na anak nito.

Mainam din at mabilis ang pagresponde ng Bacoar City Police sa katauhan ng tatlong nasabing pulis.

Sa pagdating ng mga pulis ay napuna ang sanggol na nagkukulay asul at hirap sa paghinga na senyales ng kakulangan sa oxygen. Kagandahan at kainaman na ang isa sa mga pulis ay rehistradong nurse din na si PCpl Zapatero.

Kaya naman ay mabilis niyang isinagawa ang chest compression at sa kabutihang palad ay muling huminga ang sanggol.

Kasalukuyang binigyang lunas ni PCpl Zapatero ang sanggol ay agad namang tumawag ng rescue ambulance mula sa Bacoar DRRMO si PCpl Dimarao.

Si PCpl Ignacio naman ay kumuha ng malinis na lampin upang maging maayos na mabalutan ang sanggol at para na rin maprotektahan.

Binantayan ng mga pulis ang mag-ina at pagdating ng Bacoar DRRMO rescuers ay mabilis na dinala sa pagamutan ang nanay at sanggol.

Sinusulat natin ito ay iniulat ng pulisya na ligtas na ang mag-ina at kapwa nasa maayos na kalagayan na.

Tama ang sabi ng pulisya na ang kooperasyon at pagtutulungan ng komunidad at kapulisan ay mahalagang susi sa pagpapanatili ng ligtas at mapayapang pamayanan.

'Pag palpak pa rin ang speaker ngayon ay palpak din ang presidente'

Mare: Ibang klase talaga dito sa atin, wala akong masabi tuwing sumasapit ang piyesta.

Tess: Ay, oo naman. Super sa saya talaga, lahat ay enjoy kahit bata man o matanda.

Mare: Well prepared kasi. Ganyan naman talaga basta pinagpaplanuhan at pinaghahandaan.

Tess: 'Yan ang pinaka-exiting sa akin, yung handaan. Punta lang sa iba't ibang bahay at sari-saring putahe ang malalafang hehehe.

Mare: Alam mo 'pag pagkain ang paksa ay gising na gising 'di lang ang diwa mo kundi pati ang tiyan.

Tess: Syempre naman kasi minsan lang naman yun ah. Kagandahan dito sa atin ay welcome ang lahat ng bisita 'pag piyesta.

Mare: Maiba ako, bukod sa lafang sa mga handaan eh ano pa ang iba mong obserbasyon at masasabi.

Tess: Bongga, yung mga palaro at iba pang amusement kagaya na lang nung pabinggo. Kaya lang 'di naman ako nanalo hahaha.

Mare: Ano pa, bukod dun? Wala ka na bang iba pang naobserbahan?

Tess: Meron pa syempre, yung pasayaw. Ikaw lang eh, ang tipid-tipid mong makipagsayaw.

Mare: Alam mo naman ang rason eh, 'di katulad mo na walang pagbabago pagdating sa dancing. Pero hanggang dun na lang ba at wala ka ng iba pang naobserbahan?

Tess: Last, but the best. Hehehe 'di last but not the list. Bonggang-bongga sa lahat ay 'yun concert. 'Wa ako say, the best talaga. Aminin, alam ko enjoy ka din at kitang-kita ko yun sa iyo.

Mare: Tootoo naman na maganda at magaling ang concert na 'yun. Alam mo ba ang isa sa mga dahilan kung bakit?

Tess: Natural, mahusay ang mga performer kaya gising na gising at buhay na buhay ang dugo ng mga tao dito sa atin.

Mare: No doubt, talagang mga best performer sila. Aside from that, wala ka bang napansin na iba?

Tess: Kaloka ka ah, ang dami mong tanong. Puro ka tanong ano pa ba ang iba kong napansin, diretsuhin mo na nga ako.

Mare: Sige, tungkol sa sounds. Napuna mo ba, base sa pagkakadinig mo ay ano ang komento mo?

Tess: Mukhang may napansin nga ako na kakaiba, mas okay at maganda kumpara sa dati. 'Yung speaker, di na garalgal kaya napakaganda makinig dahil masarap sa tenga.

Mare: Kaya tama ka sa napansin mo sa akin, enjoy na enjoy talaga ako kesa 'nung dati dahil sa garalgal na speaker.

Tess: Sana lang ay talagang okay na ang speaker ngayon, baka sa umpisa lang maayos tapos gagaralgal na naman.

Mare: Sa tingin ko naman ay maayos na ang speaker ngayon. Mahal daw ang pagkakabili, 'di kagaya dati na tinipid.

Tess: Mali ka ata dyan ah, kasi 'di naman tinipid dati. Malaki rin ang badyet eh kaya lang ay binulsa ng iba. Talagang naghanap ng mura at balita ko ay 'dinoktor' ang resibo para palabasing mahal.

Mare: Grabe naman! Ibig sabihin ay napapalusutan ang presidente ng HOA natin?

Tess: Ganon na nga, kaya 'pag palpak pa rin ang speaker ngayon ay palpak din ang presidente natin.

Mare: May punto ka dyan, kasi HOA president natin ang nagpapasya kung papalitan na ba ang speaker o hindi pa. Ang masaklap ay baka pati presidente natin sa HOA ay kasabwat sa 'kikbak' sa pagbili ng speaker hehehe.

--- Wakas ---

Ang isang bagay lalo at ginagamit para sa kapakinabangan ng lahat ay magtatagal naman ang buhay o serbisyo basta ang kaukulang badyet ay tamang ginamit sa pagbili.

Merchants in Carmona gain insights on consumer rights, fair trade laws

CITY OF CARMONA, Cavite (PIA) — The Department of Trade and Industry (DTI) continues to strengthen consumer protection and promote responsible business practices as its Cavite Provincial Office recently held an orientation on fair trade laws for merchants operating at Davilan Food Park in this city. The activity formed part of the "Seminar on Consumer Protection Awareness with Focus on Food Safety and Public Health" spearheaded by the City Government of Carmona through its Local Economic Development and Investment Promotion Office (LEDIPO). DTI-Cavite's Consumer Protection Division OIC, Mr. Rexel Amparo, and Trade and Industry Development Specialist, Mr. Arner P. Olayres, served as resource speakers. The discussion highlighted the essential provisions of Republic Act No. 7394, or the Consumer Act of the Philippines, including the roles of various implementing agencies, and the consumer rights and responsibilities. Calabarzon information frontliners trained on social media for disaster communication

CALAMBA CITY, Laguna (PIA) – The regional offices of the Office of Civil Defense (OCD) and the Philippine Information Agency (PIA) in Calabarzon gathered public information officers on Sept. 19 to an orientation on how technology can be harnessed for disaster communication. Communication officers from various local government units, national agencies, and community organizations were introduced on how to enhance their skills in crisis reporting, risk communication, and disaster preparedness. According to Regional Disaster Risk Reduction and Management Council (RDRPMC) Chairperson and OCD Calabarzon Regional Director Carlos Eduardo Alvarez, the orientation is vital in enhancing the capacity of information officers to promote disaster awareness and resilience in their communities, particularly in combating the widespread dissemination of misinformation and disinformation. "We have witnessed how a single piece of misinformation like an old video of flooding that resurfaced online can cause confusion and panic, this is why the joint efforts of OCD and PIA are crucial to strategic communications we can counter these with facts and clarity, and replace chaos with confidence," Alvarez stated. He also emphasized the vital role of government information officers in serving as a bridge between the government and the public, ensuring that accurate, timely, and relevant information reaches communities. "And who carries the information on the ground? You. The information officer--your report, your posts, your voices are the extension of our work, you are the bridge between our offices and the communities we serve," Alvarez added. Meanwhile, PIA Calabarzon Regional Director Ma. Cristina Arzadon emphasized the huge responsibilities of information officers in ensuring to save lives in their communities through the power of accurate information and communication. "You are the ones who reach the areas that the internet and mainstream media cannot reach. You provide clarity on safety plans and ensure that our fellow citizens know where to go, what to do, and how to stay safe during calamities. Though hazards and risks in our communities may differ, our goal remains the same: to prevent loss of any life." She then urged participants to help in combating misinformation and disinformation and to utilize platforms such as Sumbong sa Pangulo to directly report concerns and issues of infrastructure irregularities. The participants from across the region have expressed their commitment and hoped to conduct a separate in-depth discussion and orientation in their respective offices to also capacitate their staff in the risk and strategic communication in the context of disaster risk reduction and management and to promote disaster resilience in the region. PETITION FOR DECLARATION

OF NULLITY OF MARRIAGE

Petitioner, ALFREDO L. MONTEAGUDO, through the undersigned counsel, and unto this Honorable Court most respectively states:

I. PETITIONER PROPER

1. Petitioner ALFREDO L. MONTEAGUDO is of legal age, Filipino, married, and with a residence address in the Philippines at Lot 1, Block 3, Villa Amparo Subdivision, Bayan Luma IV, Imus City, Cavite. To prove Petitioner's residency, a copy of his Barangay Certificate of Residency is hereto attached as Annex "A". The lease Contract, Tax Identification Number ID as supporting documents to prove Petitioner's residency are also attached as Annexes "B" and "C" respectively.
2. Respondent JULIETA “MARIEJU” MONTEAGUDO¹ is of legal age, married, Filipino, with residence address at No. 88, Bagong Barrio, Caloocan City, where she may be served with summons and other processes of this Honorable Court.
3. Petitioner and Respondent are husband and wife, having been married in a civil wedding held May 3, 1983 as evidenced by their Certificate of Marriage, a copy of which is attached hereto as Annex "D" and made an integral part hereof.
4. Their union was blessed with 1 child, JENNIFER MONTEAGUDO. A copy of the Certificate of Live Birth is attached hereto as Annex "E"

5. Five days after wedding, Petitioner went abroad in 1983. The Petitioner and the Respondent never lived together as husband and wife. They communicated for a year through letters while the Petitioner was working abroad;

6. They separated five days after their marriage and never lived together as husband and wife.
7. As will be shown hereunder, prior to, during, and subsequent to the celebration of their marriage, Petitioner and Respondent are both psychologically incapacitated to comprehend and assume the essential obligations of marriage. Hence, this petition for the nullity of their marriage.

FACTS OF THE CASE

8. Petitioner is the eldest among six (6) children of Salome and Santiago Monteagudo, both deceased. His father died from hypertension, and his mother, a chronic smoker, died from complications related to asthma and tuberculosis.
9. Petitioner was raised in a financially unstable household in a rural setting, where his family relied on subsistence farming, primarily planting corn and tobacco. These endeavors were sufficient to meet the family's basic needs, including the educational aspiration of the children.
10. From a young age, the Petitioner was burdened with responsibilities far beyond his years. As the eldest child, he was expected to assist his parents in the labor-intensive tasks of planting and harvesting crops, which disrupted his education. His schooling was frequently interrupted by his father's insistence that he skip classes to help on the farm.
11. In 1983, the Petitioner secured employment as a security guard with the Tierra Company in Makati, Rizal. During his period, Respondent Juliet "Marieju" Monteagudo worked as domestic helper in a nearby subdivision.
12. The Petitioner and Respondent were introduced by mutual acquaintances – other domestic helpers and security guards working within the subdivision. The Respondent would frequently pass by the Petitioner's post, greeting him in the process.
13. Over time, a casual friendship developed between the Petitioner and Respondent, eventually leading to the Petitioner jokingly expressing a desire to court the Respondent. The Respondent agreed, and they soon began dating. Within a month, their relationship progressed into that of a boyfriend and girlfriend.
14. Due to their work schedules, they only saw each other when leaving the subdivision.
15. While boyfriend-girlfriend, it did not take long for Petitioner to take the initiative, and his sexual advances were readily reciprocated by Respondent. Their first instance of sexual intercourse took place at the Respondent's workplace. The Petitioner would visit the Respondent at the house of the latter's boss. Sometimes, the Respondent would visit the Petitioner at a relative's house in JP Rizal, where they engaged in a premarital relationship
16. The frequency of their intimate encounters eventually led to the Respondent's pregnancy. The news of this pregnancy came as a shock to the Petitioner, who was unprepared for the responsibility of fatherhood. At the time, the Petitioner was not serious about his relationship with the Respondent, as he was involved with other women.
17. In the eight month of Respondent's pregnancy, the Petitioner's sister, Victoria Monteagudo Verona, who was working as a domestic helper for a wealthy employer in Gamu, Isabela, informed the Petitioner of a job opportunity abroad as a waiter. The position was offered by a company contracted to provide services in Diego Garcia, California, USA.
18. The Petitioner applied for and successfully secured the position. Before leaving the country, the Petitioner accompanied the Respondent back to her family's home in Talisay, Negros Occidental, where she was to stay and give birth to their child while he was abroad.
19. Upon their arrival in Talisay, the Respondent's parents arranged for the couple's marriage. The Petitioner felt compelled to comply, as the Respondent's father had threatened his life if he refused to marry the Respondent.
20. The marriage ceremony, which took place at 3 May 1983, was organized hastily. Respondent's parents enlisted individuals to act as guardians for the Petitioner, facilitating the civil wedding officiated by the Municipal Trial Judge.
21. The Petitioner felt trapped and fearful for his life, with no alternatives or options available to him in the situation. Consequently, he reluctantly agreed to the marriage.
22. The Petitioner's family, including his parents and siblings, were unaware of the wedding that took place in Talisay. The petitioner did not inform them of the marriage, given the circumstances surrounding it.
23. Five days after the wedding, the Petitioner returned to Manila to prepare for his departure abroad. He left the Philippines later that same year.
24. The Respondent gave birth to their daughter, Jennifer, on June 4, 1983. For the following year, the Petitioner and Respondent maintained communication through letters while the Petitioner was abroad and the Respondent remained in Talisay with their child.
25. In 1984, the Petitioner returned to the Philippines for a brief vacation but chose not to visit the Respondent and their child in Negros. Instead, he went directly to his parent's home in Gamu, Isabela, as he longed to see them after several years of absence.
26. The Petitioner spent two weeks in Gamu before returning to Manila and then to Olongapo to finalize paperwork for his return abroad. His vacation was brief, and he did not attempt to reconnect with the Respondent or their child.
27. The Respondent, upon hearing the Petitioner's vacation in 1984, travelled to Olongapo in an attempt to find him. During this time, she left - their daughter in the care of her parents in Talisay.

28. While in Olongapo, the Respondent applied for a job and met a man named Noli Baje Opanda, a native of Samar, with whom she began an extramarital affair.
 29. The Respondent's relationship with Mr. Opanda progressed rapidly. By October 1985, the Respondent was pregnant with Mr. Opanda's child whom sha gave birth in July 1986.
 30. The Petitioner eventually learned of the Respondent's affair and the birth of her child with Mr. Opanda. This revelation devastated the Petitioner, who had hope to reconcile with the Respondent upon his return to the Philippines.
 31. The Respondent and Mr. Opanda continued their relationship and eventually married on 18 December 1994, further solidifying the Respondent's departure from her marriage with the Petitioner. A copy of the Certificate on Advisory of Marriage issued by the Office of the Civil Registrar is attached herewith as Annex "F".
 32. The Petitioner was left emotionally distraught, realizing that he had no wife to return to, as the Respondent had effectively abandoned their marriage for another man. The Petitioner immersed himself in his work to cope with the situation.
 33. The Petitioner's decision to cease communication with the Respondent was largely influenced by her infidelity and the birth of her child with other man.
 34. Petitioner and Respondent remained separated from 1983 until present, with no attempts at reconciliation proving successful.
 35. All efforts for reconciliation of the parties have been exhausted but proved futile and to no avail. The Petitioner now desires to be freed from a loveless marriage and live life liberated from the bonds of his failed marriage.

CAUSE OF ACTION

No Consent

36. Art. 2 of the Family Code² provides that no marriage shall be valid unless the essential requisites, which includes consent freely given in the presence of the solemnizing officer, are present. Art. 2 of the Family Code further provides that the absence of any of the essential or formal requisites shall render the marriage void a initio. The, Art. 15³ of the Family Code states that any contracting party between the age of twenty-one and twenty-five shall be obliged to ask their parents or guardian for advice upon the intended marriage.
37. In the case of *Ado-An-Morimoto vs Morimoto*⁴, the Supreme Court explained that:

"As a special contract, consent is, by definition, indispensable to marriage. Accordingly, the Family Code stipulates the second essential requisite of marriage to be "consent freely in the presence of the solemnizing officer."

It is vital to distinguish the authentic, underlying consent of the parties from the external manifestation of such consent during a marriage ceremony. Jurisprudence therefore recognizes that, when there is no bona fide intention of becoming a spouse to another, a marriage is void for want of consent even when marriage ceremonies have been conducted and, there, the parties declared their intent to enter into married life."

38. The ruling highlights the difference between mere outward compliance with the formalities of marriage and the true, voluntary intent to enter into a marital union. In the present case, the Petitioner's so-called consent was nothing more than a superficial compliance, forced upon him by the Respondent's family under the circumstances of duress.
39. Furthermore, in the case of *Republic of the Philippines vs Albios*⁵, the Supreme Court defined a consent freely given. To wit:

"Under said Article 2, for consent to be valid, it must be (1) freely given and (2) made in the presence of solemnizing officer. A "freely given" consent requires that the contracting parties willingly and deliberately enter into the marriage. Consent must be real in the sense that it is not vitiated nor rendered defective by any of the vices of consent under Articles 45 and 46 of the family Code, such as fraud, force, intimidation, and undue influence. Consent must also be conscious or intelligent, in that the parties must be capable of intelligently understanding the nature of, and both the beneficial or unfavorable consequences of their act. Their understanding should not be affected by insanity, intoxication, drugs, or hypnotism."

40. It is underscored that the consent must be more than a mere formality; it must be deliberate, informed, and voluntary act. The Petitioner, in this case was deprived of the opportunity to exercise such informed and voluntary act.

² Art. 2 of the Family Code of the Philippines
³ Art. 15 of the family Code of the Philippines
⁴ G.R. No. 247576, March 15, 2021
⁵ G.R. No. 198780, October 16, 2013

41. The circumstances surrounding the marriage of the Petitioner and Respondent make it evident that no genuine consent was given. The Petitioner, at the time of the marriage, was subjected to severe pressure, intimidation, and emotional manipulation by the Respondent's family. The marriage was a classic "shotgun wedding", where the petitioner was coerced into marriage under the threat of harm. This environment of coercion and fear is the antithesis of the "freely given" consent required by law. The Petitioner's agreement to the marriage was not a product of his free will but rather a desperate attempt to avoid immediate harm.
42. Furthermore, the Petitioner's consent was neither conscious nor intelligent. The Petitioner, at a young and impressionable age, was thrust into a life-altering decision without adequate time to contemplate the consequences. He was denied the change to seek counsel from his parents, who were entirely unaware of marriage plans. The marriage was orchestrated swiftly and without the Petitioner's genuine understanding or approval. This lack of time for reflection and advice directly contravenes the spirit of Article 15 of the Family Code, which emphasizes the need for parental guidance in such significant decision.

43. To provide further context, the relationship between the parties had only just begun when the Respondent's parents discover her pregnancy. This discovery led to the immediate and coercive arrangement of the marriage, without any consideration for the petitioner's feelings, readiness, or willingness to enter into such a union. The marriage was not the result of mutual love and respect but a hastily arranged solution to avoid societal embarrassment and family pressure. The Petitioner's involvement was not voluntary; it was compelled by external forces beyond his control.

44. The lack of genuine consent is further demonstrated by the subsequent breakdown of the marriage. The union was short-live and marked by unhappiness and dysfunction. The Respondent abandoned the Petitioner for a man shortly after the marriage, highlighting the absence of any true marital bond or commitment from the beginning. The coercive circumstances under which the marriage was entered into a foreshadowed its inevitable collapse.

45. In light of the foregoing, it is abundantly clear that the marriage between the Petitioner and Respondent is void ab initio due to the absence of the essential requisite of consent. The argument that cohabitation cured the lack of consent is untenable. The brief cohabitation period was not a product of the Petitioner's free will but was marred by ongoing fear and intimidation from the Respondent's family. The threats to the Petitioner's life and well-being persisted, preventing any possibility of a genuine, consensual marriage.

Nullity of the Marriage Based on Psychological Incapacity as the Main Cause of Action

46. Petitioner and Respondent sought the counselling of Ms. Nedy L. Tayag M.A., RPsy ("Ms. Tayag"), psychologist, and undertook relevant tests and clinical interviews to determine their individual psychological condition with respect to their ability to assume the essential obligations of the marriage.

47. After careful analysis of Ms. Tayag, she concluded based on the findings⁶ that the marriage of the parties failed due to the personality disorder of both parties that renders them incapable of fulfilling their marital duties and obligations.

48. Clinical psychologist, Ms. Nedy L. Tayag, on a clinical viewpoint, found that the Petitioner is suffering from a particular type of personality disorder known as NARCISSISTIC PERSONALITY DISORDER while the Respondent is conflicted with NARCICCISTIC PERSONALITY DISORDER and HISTRIONIC PERSONALITY DISORDER. Ms. Tayag strongly believes that the Petitioner and Respondent's psychological incapacity led to the eventual demise of their marriage.

The Petitioner's psychological incapacity is characterized by:

i. Petitioner's current intellectual endowment is leveled along the plane average, reflecting his capacity to face and handle easy-to-moderate mental challenges corresponding to his age group.

ii. His cognitive abilities in planning, visual-motor dexterity, abstraction, keenness to detail, and logical thinking are along the standard. Meanwhile, his judgment, while on a fair scale, is prone to exhibit fluctuating performances.

iii. It was revealed in Petitioner's Projective data that he has a positive disposition; yet, afraid of failure or making mistakes. He is a person who constantly strives for a sense of safety and stability.

iv. Due to his excessive anxiousness and strong inclination to be negative.

v. Behind his confident demeanor is an individual with poor self-esteem and a lack of adequate appreciation of his real capacity.

vi. Petitioner's low self-esteem influenced his belief that he needed to be highly productive to recognize his worth as a person.

vii. Petitioner's capacity for stress is so low that in facing difficulties, he attempts to compensate by doing something that he feels is beneficial for his ego just not to feel his emotions.

viii. Socially, the Petitioner seeks relationships that will provide him nurturance and protection. Due to his fragile ego, he is most likely to conform to social situations to avoid the feeling of shame when he does something that is not in favor of his group.

ix. Petitioner wants intimacy to have feeling of something to hold on to. He seeks connection to have something to grasp onto.

x. Petitioner likes talking and will always ensure that thoughts and sentiments are strongly communicated, particularly those that are his own.

Respondent's psychological incapacity is characterized by:

i. Respondent is self-centered. She is uncomfortable when she is not the center of attention. She displays exhibitionist behavior while constantly seeking for reassurance or approval. She is also excessively sensitive to criticism or disapproval. Respondent shows inappropriately seductive appearance or behavior of a sexual nature.

ii. Opinions of Respondent are easily influenced by other people, but she had difficult to back up with details. She also has the tendency to believe that relationships are more intimate than they actually are. She has high degree of suggestibility, that is, easily influenced by others or circumstances.

iii. Respondent rapidly shift emotional states that appear shallow to others. She exhibits excessive dramatics with exaggerated displays of emotion. Respondent blames personal failure or disappointments on others.

49. Ms. Tayag traces Petitioner's personal disorder back to the initial phases of his development when he was still in the crucial years of laying the foundation of his person where he was exposed to enduring conditions that left a lasting impact on him. As a result, the Petitioner ended up developing an inferior self-image, which the petitioner later on tried to overcompensate, leading to his complex personality structure.

50. His personality disorder may have been proliferated by emotionally injuring childhood experiences catered by an immediate environment where he thought it was not safe to express frustration or anger, much less develop one's own initiative towards personal choices, to wit:

i. Petitioner's view of himself and everyone else has been greatly influenced by the restrictive kind of environment that he had been immersed into as a child and the decidedly dysfunctional manner by which the dynamics of his parents' relationship have been displayed in front of him.

ii. Petitioner's parents, had taken upon themselves to map out everything under the premise of doing what they thought was best along the way, it had essentially denied the validity of Petitioner's own thoughts and feelings, so much so that petitioner had developed troubled making up his mind on anything without his parents or anyone else telling him what to do.

iii. At best, the image he was presented to emulate was the authoritarian attitude that his own father had demonstrated to the family that only encouraged more confusion and later, resentment in him knowing that he was far too uncertain to even come close to the understanding what his parents really expected from him.

iv. His father's faulty actions and his mother's overbearing methods hardly helped at all in Petitioner's process of developing self-confidence as he clearly felt awkwardly side lined by all the covering up that both parents engaged in while flaunting their respective authorities over someone who simply had no idea why he had to suffer the ignominy of being almost afterthought.

v. Growing up, Petitioner felt deeply neglected and considered himself insignificant despite the fact that both his parents were practically behind the most part, since both have only concerned themselves with imposing their own will upon petitioner without bothering to consider what it was the he had wanted to do or achieve.

vi. Such suppressive existence contributed highly to his disdain towards authoritative or dominant figures, particularly those he perceived to be pushing him towards situations he never would have wanted to be involved in the first place, as what his wife had been consistently doing to him for years.

vii. With nobody else to turn to who would have addressed his own insecurities, Petitioner has likewise failed to develop a better sense of both his actual strengths and weaknesses, and traversed through adulthood without really knowing what he wanted or what it was that could provide him some sense of satisfaction or accomplishment, specifically in his intimate relationships.

51. Ms. Tayag traces the root causes of Respondent's personal disorder from having grown up in a dysfunctional family set-up, to wit:

i. Having grown up with family a faulty father figure and the subsequent preoccupation of her mother with covering up for both her father's excesses as well as her personal problems, rather than taking time to attend to respondent's emotional requirements have in turn bred in her the impression that she was rejected emotionally.

ii. Basically, Respondent spent her childhood and early teens without having to discover her own identity as the path she was presented with was littered with personal doubts and insecurities. Seeing her father's faulty ways and watching her mother struggling helplessly to put up a front of normalcy had clearly shaken her sense of security, no matter how everyone around her tried to inject into her the notion of being special.

iii. The incongruence of what her parents say and their actual actions brought respondents so much instability and whatever little sense of personal security that she had growing up were also threatened seriously by the obvious fragility of her status and the seemingly difficult compromises that she had to go through in the face of competition later on.

iv. She always seem to want to feel needed but could not seem to display enough effort to compensate for her felt vulnerabilities, hence her pathetically loose temperament and very poor impulse control whenever she feels challenged.

v. Having grown up with the impression of being unwanted, respondent has thus learned to shield herself from such humiliating experiences by constant denial and through projection of an image of aggressiveness.

vi. She has become a person who, beneath an assertive and receptive façade, is one who harbors deep seated anxieties of being unacceptable and getting taken for granted. The enduring bitterness that respondent have done to live with early on have continued to cloud her judgment and have driven her to commit certain excesses later in life that only add up to her personal troubles.

vii. Upon reaching adulthood, Respondent's insatiable guest for attention and recognition continue to be at the forefront of her motives which however did not translate well in her roles as a legally married wife, and most of all, as family woman.

viii. In a sense, she never really grew out of her developed childhood aggression and instead, she even evolved into even more effective aggressive behaviors in adulthood, using her manipulative tactics to serve her self-engrossed agendas which to her own view, makes her feel good, or in some means, complete her flawed self-concept that she had long be trying to cover up.

a. Petitioner entered multiple relationships to feel good about himself and cover up his fragile self-esteem. When the Petitioner was still working as a security guard for the Tierra Company in Rizal, Makati, he met "Marieju" who was then working as a helper in a nearby subdivision. They only ran into each other when leaving the subdivision because of their job schedules. Although he was dating Juliet ("Marieju"), Alredo had other girlfriends.

b. "Pinsan ko po guwapo. Pero bago niya nakilala si Juliet, may mga girfriend siya na pinagsabay-sabay niya. Hindi alam ng mga babae. – JOHN ADAP, cousin of the petitioner.

c. Petitioner lost contact with the respondent when he was still in USA. Upon returning, he learned that the respondent had an affair and had a child with another man she met in Olongapo. His fragile masculine ego could not accept the fact that what he used to do with other women that he had relationship before will be done to him by his wife. To bolster his fragile self-esteem, the petitioner also finds another woman to replace the respondent.

d. "Sa aking pagkakatanda, nagkaroon ng kasintahan si Kuya Fred bago ito nag-ibang bansa. Nagtrabaho siya sa ibang bansa at wala na kaming narinig na kahit ano mula sa kaniyang kasintahan hanggang sa bumalik ito sa Pilipinas." ZALDY ADAP, cousin of the petitioner

e. "Noon tinanong ko ang aking ama, sinabi niyang kinasama ng aking Tito si Marieju noon siya ay nagtatrabaho sa Maynila bilang isang security guard. Kwento pa niya, nawalan sila ng contact noong mag-ibang bansa na ang aking uncle. Hindi na rin sila nakapag-usap kahit pa bumalik na ang aking uncle sa Pilipinas. – FREDDIE MONTEAGUDO JR., nephew of the petitioner.

II. Petitioner lacks empathy. He is unwilling to recognize or identify with the feelings and needs of others.

a. Petitioner abandoned the respondent and their child and ceased providing financial support for them.

c. "Lumaki ang aming anak, pinag-aral namin. Mas malaki ang gastos ng nanay ko doon sa anak ko. Noong high school, nanay ko na ang nag-paaral. "-Respondent's account

d. "Habang lumalaki ang anak ko, lalo siyang ninanais mnakita ng tatay niya. Binubully na siya sa school. Hindi naman nakita. Noon nauso ang social media, hinanap talaga ng anak ko kaya maraming kaibigan ang anak kong Monteagudo, pero hindi naman kilala ang tatay niya. "-Respondent's account.

e. "Hanggang nakakita s FB ng pinsan niya noong 2017. Anak ng kapatid ng tatay niya sa Taguig. Ayun nag-set sila at nagkita sila, at nagkita na rin kami ng tatay niY'a. Baligat nga, kami ang naghapan hindi sya. "-Respondent's account.

g. "Wala akong magawa kung iyon ang gusto niya ang magpa-annul, pero paano naman ang mga taon na hindi niya sinuportahan ang anak niya. Sana naman alalahanin niya yun." – Repondent's account.

53. Petitioner's DEPENDENT PERSONALITY DISORDER and Respondent's HISTRIONIC PERSONALITY DISORDER are around to be existing even before their marriage, and they are grave, permanent, and incurable. Ms. Tayag stated in her Psychological Evaluation Report that:

"The psychological incapacity of both petitioner and respondent is characterized by juridical antecedence as it already existed long before they entered marriage. It is like pervasive and already deeply engrained in their respective systems that expecting any changes from either party in favor of reconciliation as well as normal cohabitation as husband and wife is deemed to be an extremely remote possibility."

54. Based on her findings, Ms. Tayag highly recommends the declaration of the parties' marriage null and void on the ground of psychological incapacity:

"With both already getting accustomed towards leading separate lives with hardly any consideration as to what the other might decide to pursue moving forward, the possibility of meaningful union that is based on love, mutual respect and trust is already considered a remote possibility, if not a foregone conclusion. In the context or herein facts and findings, the declaration of nullity of petitioner's marriage to respondent is hereby firmly recommended."

55. The foregoing facts clearly established that both the Petitioner and Respondent failed to comply with the essential marital obligations. It must be further underscored that Petitioner failed to comply with Article 68 of the Family Code, to wit:

"Article 68. The husband and wife are obliged to live together, observe mutual love, respect and fidelity, and render mutual help and support."

56. Both the Petitioner and Respondent infringed on their marital vows and obligations as laid down in Article 68 of the Family Code. Their actions and behavior clearly demonstrate their lack of proper stance as married couple.

57. In this case of Dela Cruz-Lanuza v. Lanuza, Jr. and the Republic of the Philippines⁷, the Honorable Court ruled that:

"Unjustified absence from the marital home for decades may be considered as part of the totality of evidenced that a person is psychologically incapacitated to comply with the essential obligations of marriage."

58. The Court reasoned that prolonged abandonment, without justifiable cause and occurring over a substantial duration, could signify a severe defect in the individual's psychological makeup, rendering them unable to comply with the essential obligations of marriage under Article 36 of the Family Code. In this context, physical separation is not simply a failure of cohabitation but a manifestation of psychological condition that prevents the individual from appreciating or fulfilling marital duties such mutual respect, fidelity, and support.

59. Applying this precedent, both the Petitioner and the Respondent demonstrated a pattern of abandonment and neglect throughout their marriage. This prolonged absence and lack of mutual support highlight each party's incapacity to meet even the most basic obligations of marital life. The Petitioner's disregard for financial support and emotional involvement in the life of his child further demonstrates a profound lack of empathy and commitment – traits incompatible with the responsibilities inherent in marriage. Similarly, the Respondent's actions, including her erratic behavior and need for attention reveal an incapacity for the sustained, balanced relationship required of marital partners.

60. In view of the Petitioner and Respondent's failure to comply with the essential marital obligations, their marriage should be declared void according to Article 36 of the Family Code, which states:

"Article 36. A marriage contracted by any party who, at the time of the celebration, was psychologically incapacitated to comply with the essential marital obligations of marriage, shall likewise be void even if such incapacity becomes manifest only after its solemnization."

61. Marriage is an inviolable social institution sanctified by religion and its nature governed by law. The marriage of Petitioner and Respondent should be declared void ab initio because both parties never really had the heart, will, and mind for marriage and its attendant obligations. Marital vows are not empty and hollow promises of affection and love but a lifetime commitment between a man and a woman. Marriage does not merely speak of the present state that one's heart but embraces the past and must patiently endure the future. The facts of the present case clearly show that Petitioner did not take into consideration the attendant obligation of marriage.

62. Thus, there was no marriage that look place on May 3, 1983, which is, at best, on an empty ritual or a hollow ceremony. Their wedding therefore a farce, as Petitioner and Respondent were psychologically incapacitated to comply with the essential obligations of marriage. In full fairness to the parties, therefore, they should be freed from the bonds tying them.

63. The "seeds" or manifestations of the Petitioner and the Respondent's psychological incapacity to comply with the essential marital obligations manifested only sometime after the celebration of their marriage.

64. Therefore, the marriage of the Petitioner and Respondent must be dissolved in the best interest of the State. In the case of Azcueta vs. Republic⁸, the Supreme Court quotes the ruling cited in the case of Te vs. Yu-Te.

"In dissolving marital bonds on account of either party's psychological incapacity, the Court is not demolishing the foundation of families, but is actually protecting the sanctity of marriage, because it refuses to allow a person afflicted with a psychological disorder, who cannot comply with or assume the essential marital obligations, from remaining in that sacred bond. Let it be noted that in Article 36, there is no marriage to speak of in the first place, as the same is void from the very beginning. To indulge in imagery, the declaration of nullity under Art 36 will simply provide a decent burial to a stillborn marriage. (Emphasis and underscoring supplied)

65. Succinctly put, the marriage between Petitioner and Respondent should be declared void ab initio because Petitioner and Respondent never really had the heart, will, and mind, for marriage and its attendant obligations as outlined in the Family Code. The manifestations of their psychological incapacity to comply with the essential marital obligations were already present even prior to the celebration of their marriage and just became more evident after its celebration.

66. There are no existing properties belonging too the absolute community of property that can be disposed of in accordance with law.

67. Petitioner and Respondent did not incur any conjugal debts.

68. All efforts for reconciliation of the parties have been exhausted but proved futile and to not avail.

69. In view of the foregoing, Petitioner respectfully requests this Honorable Court to declare his marriage to Respondent as null and void due to psychological incapacity of both parties to comply with the essential marital obligations.

On the other hand, NWU will serve as the venue for four (4) major Thematic Fora on Human Well-being, Wealth Creation, Wealth Protection, and Sustainability. To support this, NWU will mobilize officials, employees, and students to attend activities, provide faculty facilitators, IT support staff, marshals, and directional signages, and extend transportation support with a coaster and bus to shuttle participants across NSTW venues in Laoag City.

Meanwhile, NCC will actively support the NSTW by engaging its academic community in activities such as the SALINHALI Symposium Series and Scienceteach sessions. The college's NCC Auditorium will serve as one of the official NSTW venues with deployed IT support staff to ensure smooth program delivery.

BJMP Bacoor City Jail Bacoor Completion Day and Partnership Strengthening: PDL Skills Training Graduation, DOST Starbooks Kiosks Unveiling and MOA Signing Ceremony

The Bureau of Jail Management and Penology (BJMP) Bacoor City (Male Dormitory) marked a significant milestone with the successful Completion Day and Partnership Strengthening event. This occasion underscored the BJMP's mission to provide Persons Deprived of Liberty (PDLs) with education, skills training, and rehabilitation opportunities to prepare them for reintegration into society.

A notable highlight was the unveiling of the DOST Starbooks Kiosks, a transformative initiative by the Department of Science and Technology (DOST).

These kiosks provide access to a comprehensive digital library of educational materials, livelihood resources, and other valuable tools, enabling PDLs to expand their knowledge and prepare for life beyond incarceration.

Ms. Anna Marie S. Daigan, representing DOST, emphasized the department's unwavering commitment to advancing rehabilitation efforts through innovative platforms like Starbooks, which aim to bridge the gap in access to information and learning.

The event also included the signing of a Memorandum of Agreement (MOA) to formalize partnerships with various stakeholders. This agreement strengthens the collaborative efforts of DOST, BJMP, and other organizations to promote education, skills development, and holistic rehabilitation for PDLs.

Distinguished officials and stakeholders graced the occasion, including Cong. Lani M. Revilla, a staunch advocate for community empowerment and development; JSUPT. Reyno Damaso, BJMP Provincial Administrator; JSINSP. Jhon Sibal, Deputy Chief; JSUPT. Christopher Penilla, City Jail Warden of the Bacoor City Jail Male Dormitory; Mr. Laurence Angelo Bago, Project Technical Assistant from DOST Cavite; Ms. Janice Nealega, Head of Campus Extension Services at Cavite State University (CavSU); Ms. Chelano Terencio, representative from the Department of Labor and Employment (DOLE); and Ms. Carmelita Gawaran, Head of the Bacoor City's Livelihood Office. DOST Region 2 Strengthens Technology Transfer Through Fairness Opinion

To ensure that innovative technologies from local research institutions find their way to industry partners, the Department of Science and Technology (DOST) Region 02 continue to advance its efforts in technology transfer and commercialization through a series of Fairness Opinion Board (FOB) Meetings. Recently, the Fairness

Opinion Report (FOR) for the C-TRIKE technology, a locally developed transport innovation by Cagayan State University, was endorsed for adoption by LMPRESS Corp. in Iguig, Cagayan. This adoption highlights the region's push for sustainable mobility and the utilization of homegrown solutions to address community needs.

In another FOB Meeting, the adoption of Isabela State University's (ISU) 3-flavored duck egg technology was endorsed for Aqu Chick Boy Meat Shop & General Merchandise in San Mateo, Isabela. This flavored duck egg innovation aims to add value to traditional products, create agribusiness opportunities, and support local enterprises. The FOB Meeting was facilitated by the FOB Secretariat under the leadership of Regional Director Virginia G. Bilgera, ensuring that the evaluation process was transparent, participatory, and aligned with DOST's technology transfer guidelines.

Mandated under the Philippine Technology Transfer Act of 2009 (RA 10055), the Fairness Opinion Board (FOB) is an independent body of experts that reviews technology transfer agreements to ensure they are fair, reasonable, and beneficial to both research institutions and industry adopters, safeguarding public interest while fostering stronger research-industry collaboration.

Through these technology adoptions, DOST-02 continues to fulfill its mission of bridging research outputs to industry applications, empowering local businesses, and contributing to the socio-economic growth of the Cagayan Valley Region.

presence underscored the importance of collective efforts in advancing the welfare and rehabilitation of PDLs.

The event reaffirmed BJMP's steadfast commitment to fostering hope, transformation, and empowerment among Persons Deprived of Liberty (PDLs). Through its partnership with the Department of Science and Technology (DOST), BJMP will gain access to innovative rehabilitation programs and community engagement initiatives—paving the way toward a stronger, more inclusive society. (DOST CAVITE)

Legarda, pinapurihan ang Career Progression Law bilang mahalagang hakbang para sa empowerment ng mga guro

Pinuri ni Senadora Loren Legarda ang pagsasabatas ng Republic Act No. 12288, o ang Career Progression System for Public School Teachers and School Leaders Act, isang panukalang batas na siya ang may-akda at co-sponsor, bilang isang mahalagang hakbang sa pagkilala sa kakayahan, dedikasyon, at mahalagang papel ng mga gurong Pilipino.

“Sa mabilis na pagbabagong nagaganap sa ating panahon, ang pangangailangan ng 21st-century learners ay ang edukasyong makabago at tumutugon sa hamon ng panahon. Habang itinataas natin ang antas ng pamantayan sa edukasyon, hindi lamang ang kinabukasan ng ating mga mag-aaral ang dapat nating isulong, kundi pati na rin ang ating mga guro na siyang gumagabay at nag-aalaga sa kanila sa bawat hakbang,” ani Legarda.

Sa ilalim ng RA 12288, bubuo ng isang malinaw na balangkas para sa propesyonal na pag-unlad at pagsulong sa karera na layong makaakit, at makapanatili ng pinakamahasag na mga guro sa bansa. Dalawang tiyak na career tracks para sa mga guro at pinalawak ang teaching ladder ang lilikhain ang batas sa pamamagitan ng mga bagong matataas na posisyon gaya ng Master Teacher IV, V, VI, at VII. Higit pa rito, ang promosyon ay ibabatay hindi lamang sa pagkakaroon ng bakanteng posisyon kundi sa merito, kakayahan, at pagiging karapat-dapat.

“Habang itinataas natin ang kalidad ng edukasyon para sa ating mga mag-aaral, kailangan ding iangat ang katayuan ng ating mga guro. Sa pagbibigay sa kanila ng malinaw at makatarungang landas para sa pagsulong, pinagtitibay natin na ang gurong Pilipino ang patuloy na nagliliwanag ng ating kinabukasan,” dagdag ni Legarda.

PBBM issues EO 97 strengthening workers’ rights, ensuring freedom of association

President Ferdinand R. Marcos Jr. has issued Executive Order No. 97 to ensure workers can freely form unions, join associations, and exercise their rights without fear. President Marcos' order lays down clear rules for government agencies to protect these rights and ensure that rallies and union activities remain peaceful and lawful. EO No. 97 adopted the Omnibus Guidelines on the Exercise of Freedom of Association and Civil Liberties, directing government agencies to safeguard workers' rights to unionize, organize, and engage in peaceful concerted activities in line with the Constitution and international labor standards. The measure reinforces constitutional guarantees protecting workers' right to self-organization, collective bargaining, and peaceful assembly, addressing concerns raised by the International Labour Organization (ILO) which had called on the Philippine government to act on reported laborers' concerns. EO 97 noted that at the 108th Session of the International Labour Conference (ILC) in June 2019, the ILO established a High-Level Tripartite Mission (HLTM) to assist the Philippine Government in addressing reported incidents of violence, red-tagging, and suppression of trade union rights. The HLTM also recommended immediate and effective actions, including prevention of violence related to legitimate union activities; investigation and accountability for acts of violence against union members; operationalization of monitoring bodies; and assurance that all workers, without distinction, can freely form and join organizations of their choosing. In 2023, to implement the HLTM's recommendations, the President through Executive Order (EO) No. 23 created the Inter-Agency Committee for the Protection of the Freedom of Association and Right to Organize of Workers, or the Inter-Agency Committee, to take all necessary measures to address the four identified areas of concern. The order would also promote and safeguard workers' rights to freedom of association, self-organization, and collective bargaining, with full regard for human, civil, political, economic, and social rights and liberties. Under the order, key agencies—including the Department of Labor and Employment (DOLE), Department of Justice, Department of National Defense, Department of Trade and Industry, the Armed Forces of the Philippines (AFP), the Philippine National Police (PNP), and the National Security Council—are tasked to align their policies and operations with the guidelines. The DOLE, through the National Tripartite Industrial Peace Council, will monitor implementation and compliance, while the Inter-Agency Committee created in 2023 will provide periodic reports to the Office of the President. Government agencies are also required to incorporate the guidelines into their training, operations, and informational materials to ensure uniform application. Local government units and the private sector are encouraged to extend full cooperation. | PND

PMcJ joins global call to change the system; highlights national fight against corruption, failed flood control projects

Quezon City, Philippines

— The Philippine Movement for Climate Justice (PMcJ), together with Asian Peoples' Movement on Debt and Development (APMDD), Sanlakas, Oriang, and other progressive organizations, march through España towards Mendiola on September 19, 2025, in solidarity with global mass mobilizations to denounce multiple crises worldwide. PMcJ believes September marks a critical point in the fight against a rotten system that aggravates the climate crisis, as world leaders convene at the United Nations (UN) General Assembly six weeks ahead of the UN Climate Change Conference (UNFCCC) 30th session of the Conference of the Parties (COP 30) in Brazil. It is also a critical time in the Philippines as anomalous flood-control projects linked to corruption are a hot topic. "In just three years, the country has poured 545 billion pesos into nearly 10,000 flood-control projects. Yet communities on the frontline are betrayed and left to drown in persistent floods. Shockingly, corrupt government officials and insatiable corporations profit from the chaos in utter disregard of human life. This is not only a failure in governance but also climate injustice down the line. In the Philippines and the rest of the world, we are witnessing the same old playbook: billions of public funds stolen, systems designed to exploit, and a crisis pushed to the brink," said Ellenor Bartolome, PMcJ senior executive officer for policy, campaigns, and communications. Bartolome added that investigating these anomalous projects and those of corporate climate offenders should be expedited in time for COP30, whose central goal is to translate the agreements and outcomes of the Global Stocktake into tangible actions and solutions. "That is why 2025 must not be just another year of broken promises. It must be a year to deliver and be the turning point for real accountability and justice on the ground," she emphasized. "It is high time to demand real solutions to the rampant corruption, environmental destruction, and government neglect in the Philippines. The lives of the affected communities are constantly at high risk due to the intensifying impacts of climate change. In 2024, when the country was hit by 11 storms, including Cyclones Kristine and Leo, which caused the worst destruction, the total damage was over 43 billion pesos. But beyond infrastructure destruction, the biggest climate-related damage is loss of life," said Ian Rivera, PMcJ national coordinator. Rivera stressed that the catastrophe worsens because the national government, riddled by corruption, allows greedy multinational and fossil fuel corporations to continue their dirty, costly, and deadly business activities that jeopardize people's health, livelihood, and homes. Despite an allocated budget of 457 billion pesos for climate change initiatives, with 97% allocated to adaptation efforts like disaster readiness, the nation continues to be ravaged by floods and faces increasingly severe disasters. Without a bold investment in cleaner energy and a decisive shift from fossil fuels, the climate crisis will only intensify. "Today, communities, organizations, and other sectors draw the line against corruption, tyranny, and inequality. This united action is a declaration of global solidarity against preventable death, injustice, corruption, and the climate crisis. Let us create a consistent habit of loud protests and unified opposition to the evil tandem of corrupt government and rapacious corporations. Let us normalize defiance and vehemently fight for justice for the sake of the next generation's livable future. The people demand system change through an equitable and just transition to phase out fossil fuels and end inequality, plunder, and tyranny across the world," Rivera concluded.

DILG Aims to Roll Out Pag-asa Expo to LGUs

Following the success of the 1st Pag-asa Expo at the Manila City Jail yesterday, the Department of the Interior and Local Government (DILG) is planning to roll out the unified government service caravan to the local government units (LGUs) down to the barangay level. According to DILG Assistant Secretary, Atty. Liavel Badillo-Crisostomo, the Department is mulling the adoption of the Pag-asa Expo by LGUs in hopes of bringing government services closer to the people. "Hindi po titigil ang Pag-asa expo sa mga BJMP jails. Ibababa rin po namin ito sa mga LGUs," Crisostomo said earlier Monday, during the launching of the DILG Pag-asa Expo: Serbisyo at Katarungan Caravan at the BJMP's Manila City Jail Male and Female Dormitory. "Dahil ang gusto pong makita ni Secretary ay mailapit ang mga serbisyo sa mga tao at makuha po nila ito ng agaran," she added. Crisostomo stressed that the Pag-asa Expo is the Department's initiative to cut down red tape practices in government by putting forward its services to the communities, in line with President Marcos' call for accessible and efficient public services. "Wala na po yung mga araw kung saan tayo ay pipili, kung saan tayo ay iiyak para lang makakuha ng serbisyo, dahil pera ng Pilipino ito, serbisyo na dapat ay para sa mga Pilipino. For the people, of the people, and to the people," she added. Meanwhile, the Assistant Secretary also hopes to continue the roll-out of the Pag-asa Expo to BJMP Jails across the country to end the stigma on PDLs by giving them second chances in life. "I think this is the epitome of compassionate justice, na magbigyan ng second chance ang mga taong ito [PDLs] na hindi po usually nabibigyan. No one shall be left behind," Crisostomo explained. "Ang metric nga po na laging sinasabi ni Secretary (Jonvic Remulla), 'wag tayong tumingin sa numero, tumingin tayo sa mga taong natulungan," she emphasized. Last Monday, about 200 PDLs were provided with Barangay IDs which they can use as supplementary identification for their application to the Tulong Panghanapbuhay sa Ating Disadvantaged/Displaced Workers (TUPAD) program. Additionally, PDLs who are set for release will gain assistance in acquiring NBI Clearances with "No Derogatory Record" through the Public Attorney's Office (PAO) for purposes such as employment, visa applications and other official requirements. PGC Employees Mark Civil Service Month with Tree Planting Activity in Tagaytay

In celebration of the 125th Philippine Civil Service Anniversary, the Provincial Government of Cavite (PGC), through the Office of the Provincial Human Resource Management Officer (OPHRMO), spearheaded a Tree Planting and Tree Growing Activity on September 19, 2025, at the Taal Volcano Protected Landscape in Tagaytay City. The event, which gathered sixty (60) employees from various PGC offices, was part of the Employees' Month Celebration under the Civil Service Commission's nationwide observance of "Linggo ng Malasakit sa Kalikasan." The initiative highlighted the importance of sustainable environmental protection and natural resource management. A total of 150 seedlings were planted during the activity, reinforcing the provincial government's commitment to conservation and Anchored on the anniversary theme, "Bawat Kawani, Lingkod Bayani: Puso, Dangal, at Galing para sa Bayan," the activity emphasized the role of government workers not only as public servants but also as stewards of the environment. Ms. Maria Fe Mojica-Satsatin, Head of the OPHRMO, expressed her gratitude to the employees for their active participation and support, noting that their collective efforts reflect the true spirit of public service and solidarity for a greener Cavite. PH remains in investors' radar with PBBM's firm stance vs corruption – Palace

Malacañang expressed confidence Monday that the Philippines would continue to attract investors despite allegations of corruption in infrastructure projects, citing President Ferdinand R. Marcos Jr.'s firm stance against abuses and irregularities. Presidential Communications Office Undersecretary and Palace Press Officer Claire Castro said President Marcos' strong anti-corruption stance reassures the public of the government's commitment to transparency and accountability, which would surely boost investors' confidence. "We all know that investors want to invest in countries whose leaders fight corruption, whose leaders are willing to put in jail people who are corrupt, and that is what the President is doing right now," Castro said in a Palace press briefing. "Ang Pangulo ay matapang na lumabas upang ipaalam sa tao ang maaaring pang-aabuso sa kaban ng bayan. With that, we believe na lahat ng investors ay mas hahangaan ang Pangulo dahil lumalaban sa korapsyon."

The Palace official said President Marcos is the only leader who initiated an investigation into wide-scale anomalies in infrastructure projects even under his own administration. "Walang sinuman sa ngayon na nalalaman tayo na pinaimbestigahan niya ang sariling administrasyon; lahat halos ay nagmamalinis," Castro noted. President Marcos issued Executive Order No. 94 on September 11, creating the Independent Commission for Infrastructure (ICI) to investigate and recommend appropriate charges against government officials, employees, and individuals involved in anomalies in flood control and related projects of the Department of Public Works and Highways (DPWH) within the last 10 years. The President named retired Supreme Court Associate Justice Andres B. Reyes Jr. as ICI chairperson, and former DPWH Secretary Rogelio Singson and SGV and Co. Country Managing Partner Rossana Fajardo as the two ICI members. | PND

DOST opens 2025 Regional Science, Technology, and Innovation Week in Capiz

The Department of Science and Technology (DOST) officially opened on 10 September 2025 the Regional Science, Technology, and Innovation Week (RSTW) at Robinsons Roxas, Roxas City, with the theme "Siyensya, Teknolohiya at Inobasyon: Kabalikat sa Matatag, Maginhawa at Panatag na Kinabukasan." In his keynote message, DOST Secretary Dr. Renato U. Solidum, Jr. underscored that the annual RSTW is not merely a showcase but a platform to make science and innovation tangible for Filipino communities. "The RSTW is a platform for bringing science, technology, and innovation closer to the Filipinos. It is where ideas meet action, where partnerships turn into progress, and where communities see firsthand how innovations can improve lives," he said. He highlighted the agency's mandate of "ONEDOST4U: Solutions and Opportunities for All," driven by four strategic pillars: Promoting Human Well-Being, Fostering Wealth Creation, Reinforcing Wealth Protection, and Institutionalizing Sustainability. He also pointed out how Western Visayas continues to see growth in agriculture, fisheries, and manufacturing, and stressed the need for deeper collaboration. "Our initiatives have upgraded production systems, enhanced product quality, supported research and development, promoted environmental sustainability, and expanded disaster preparedness through various projects implemented throughout the province, he said adding that these initiatives strengthened industries, empowered communities, and improved the competitiveness of local enterprises. Sec. Solidum also cited the growth of the first Innovation Hub in Antique and announced the launching of another iHub in Capiz, strengthening the region's innovation ecosystem. "All these efforts point toward our subtheme, 'Building Smart and Sustainable Communities,' the essence of what we aim to achieve: Agham na Ramdam—communities that are not only productive, but also resilient, inclusive, and environmentally responsible," he emphasized. Meanwhile, DOST Region VI Director Rowen R. Gelonga expressed gratitude to local leaders, stakeholders, and partner communities for their active participation. "Capiz, known as the 'Seafood Capital of the Philippines,' is blessed with abundant natural resources and plays a vital role in building the nation's Blue Economy. This year's theme reminds us that science and innovation are not only about progress, but about creating a sustainable, resilient, and inclusive future for all," he said. He underscored that RSTW serves as a hotspot for collaboration across government, academe, MSMEs, and private institutions. "DOST is committed to demonstrating that science-based solutions uplift lives not only here in Western Visayas but across the nation. These tangible initiatives reaffirm our dedication to building a thriving, future-ready regional economy that contributes to the achievement of Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)," he remarked. The exhibits this year highlight innovations in aquaculture and fisheries (Waves of the Future), agriculture (Smart Harvests), disaster preparedness (Innovation for Smarter and Safer Communities), learning technologies (Next Gen Science Learning), and robotics (Intelligent Machines). Forums, startup podcasts, and knowledge-sharing sessions also form part of the celebration. The 2025 RSTW in Western Visayas which was open to the public will run until September 12, 2025 at the Robinsons Roxas, Roxas City, Capiz. This is among the many initiatives of the Department of Science and Technology (DOST) aimed at providing science-based, innovative, and inclusive solutions across four strategic pillars: human well-being, wealth creation, wealth protection, and sustainability.
